Contract Talks At Impasse, Strike Possible

by GLORIA DAVIS

Now that the Antioch High School Board of Education has declared an "impasse" in the teacher contract negotiations, both sides can inform the public what has been going on in the 11 meetings that have already taken place.

Three of those meetings have been with a federal mediator, Wesley Jennings.

Dick Olsen, chief negotiator for the teachers said "anything can happen," when asked about the possibility of a teachers' strike.

"I certainly don't want to see that. I don't want to see these kids out of school," said ACHS Board President Robert Lindblad.

This may depend on who gives in on the question of binding arbitration, the teachers want it, the board positively refuses.

"We don't feel this school should be told what to do by somebody from the outside," said Lindblad.

"If they have a sound argument why are they afraid of arbitration?" ask the teachers.

Reports are that the teachers are asking for a 9 percent salary increase on a two-year contract.

The board has offered a 7 percent increase with a 6 percent increase for the second year.

"This is a total of $53,000. To say that we'll hit the streets for $53,000 out of an $8 million budget is ridiculous," said Olsen.

Lindblad claims that the four other main points of contention would be negligible if the board would agree to the requested salary figure.

The recent budget approved by the board for the 1986-87 school year guesstimated the teachers' salaries at a 7 percent raise. The budget showed a 3 percent increase over last year.

The board claims it's trying to save taxpayers' money while the teachers say the board is playing with figures when it claims to "be operating in the red."

"That's like depleting your checking account and putting it into your savings account and then saying you have no money," said Olsen.

Lindblad counters with pride in keeping Antioch's taxes down. Last year was the first school tax raise in years.

He says, "We ask for what is needed to run the school properly and only that."

Frank Walsh, board negotiator, said he declared the impasse on Sept. 25 because "we were getting nowhere." Lindblad, who claims not to have shut talks off totally said, "We needed air."

Lindblad also said that the board would meet with the teachers again when and if asked.

As it stands now, no negotiating meetings are scheduled. The mediator said that he would call a "last ditch" meeting between both sides if the teachers call a strike.

While the board is saying that money is the big problem, Olsen says that the board is trying to "break the union and divest it of power by refusing to the other four points of contention.

He cited the switch of department heads to administration a few years ago, thus taking 10 members from the union, as an example. (Continued on Page 3A)

Klemm Takes Up The Issue Of Boat Safety

State Rep. Dick Klemm (R-63rd) has been appointed to a special Illinois House Transportation Committee subcommittee investigating boating safety in Illinois. Klemm, whose district includes much of the Chain-O-Lakes/Fox River Waterway, said the panel was formed following a Labor Day weekend boating accident on Fox Lake which claimed five lives.

"I'm very concerned about boating safety, so naturally I'm pleased to be a member of this subcommittee," said Klemm. "Boating is an important part of our area economy, and we want to make sure that people know that we're doing all we can to ensure that our lakes and waterways are safe. This subcommittee has an important task—I expect to take an active role in its efforts."

Klemm said the subcommittee will hold a number of hearings to determine what state and local agencies can do to prevent future tragedies.

"New laws may be needed to let drunk boaters know we mean business," Klemm said. "But I'm concerned about 'overlegislating'—we don't want to take the fun out of boating. We have a tough new drunk boating law on the books in Illinois—we may just need to educate the public about that law and the general importance of safe boating. These are matters the subcommittee will be taking up as we gather information."

Subcommittee members held their first hearing Sept. 22, and heard testimony from a number of area industrial leaders; John Soffietti, chairman of the Chain-O-Lakes/Fox River Waterway Management Agency; and Lake County Sheriff Robert "Mickey" Babcox. Suggestions presented at the hearing included licensing boat drivers, increased funding for law enforcement on the waterway, and revocation of auto drivers licenses for boat operators convicted of drunk boating.

Klemm, a member of the old Chain-O-Lakes/Fox River Waterway Management Agency, said the agency has agreed to hold a number of hearings in the area to allow local people to present their ideas for improved boating safety. Klemm also invited concerned people to contact his office at 3 W. Crystal Lake Ave., Crystal Lake, 60014, or phone (815) 455-6330 if they have information that may help the new subcommittee in its efforts.

Work To Relieve Hunger

The Community Food Pantry will hold a food drive Saturday, Oct. 4 from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. at the Jewel and Piggly Wiggly grocery stores in Antioch. Volunteers will be at the doors of these stores to collect donations of non-perishable food items or cash.

The Food Pantry is a non-denominational, ecumenical, community-wide organization dedicated to relieving hunger in the Antioch and Lake Villa areas. A week's supply of food—items for breakfast, lunch and dinner—is given to any local family in need, upon request.

During the period from June 1 to Sept. 1, a total of 34 families were served. It is expected that with the coming of winter, with higher fuel and electric bills, the need will be even greater.

The 10 teachers at Allendale (one is a union member) for whom the ACHS union negotiates, come into the picture here.

The teachers want the board to allow Allendale teachers to get out of duties to attend the 2:35 p.m. Wednesday union meetings.

Lindblad says this is not a point of disagreement, the board agreed to letting the Allendale teachers out at 3 p.m. when they are normally relieved by lay people. When the teachers stuck to the 2:35 p.m. time frame, the board offered to pay for lay people to take over for that half hour.

Ted DeRouse, president of the teachers' association, claims that agreement only affected the one union member. This point is slated for arbitration in November since the teachers claim the board is violating their contract calling for all teachers in the district to be allowed to attend the union meetings.

Fair share also comes in here. The teachers want all teachers who are negotiated for to pay their fair share of that cost.

Now paying membership dues is optional but all teachers in the district benefit from the negotiations.

"I don't blame them for feeling that way but it is not the board's place to take money from someone's check to pay to a union," said Lindblad, adding, "I'm not even sure it would be legal."

The other two points mentioned on a leaflet passed out by the teachers at the football game following the last meeting, concern cafeteria supervision by the teachers and an attempt to keep class sizes at a reasonable level.

Lindblad claims that the board offered "to spend thousands of dollars to hire lay people to relieve teachers from cafeteria duty."

The teachers are also asking for a way to limit class sizes, requesting a written statement from the board saying they are concerned with the present class sizes.

"They are calling for us to set a limit on numbers," said Lindblad. That's impossible, we don't know what the situation is going to be from year to year."

While the board feels that the many different proposals made by the teachers "shows they are not certain what they want," DeRouse says we are just negotiating for the proper combination of the five points or the right package with give and take being negotiated."

There will be a general school board meeting at which the public is welcome, on Oct. 16.

The last time Antioch High School teachers went out on strike was 15 years ago.

The last time the negotiations met a stalemate both sides were told by the many residents attending a board meeting to get together and settle it, they didn't want their kids out of school. And they did just that at a marathon negotiations meeting over a weekend.

The present extension of the contract (1985-86) the teachers are operating under will run out by Oct. 31.

Christmas Castle Needs Antioch Support

"Santa Claus, Antioch, Illinois" received (and answered) more than 3,000 letters from our town and other cities in 1985. Last year, from December through Christmas Eve, nearly 4,000 young people spoke personally to Santa in his Christmas Castle in Antioch.

That was quite an accomplishment for the Village of Antioch. Mayor Ray Toft and Parks and Recreation Dir. Glenda Tomaschlik, in cooperation with the President of the Antioch Chamber of Commerce and Industry Larry Hanson, were assisted by a tireless and dedicated committee eager to give Antioch a significant public relations story.

Antioch residents are urged to participate in any way possible to make this season for Antioch a success. In addition to Chamber members, local service organizations, churches, schools and other Chambers of Commerce are asked to donate human resources in the Christmas Castle's effort with float entries, advertising, and direct donations.

The Christmas Castle will be new and is partially funded through the generosity of the village. Chamber members and other community sources must defray the remaining costs.

Santa arrives in Antioch in the 1986 Parade on Saturday, Nov. 29, starting at 10 a.m. at Antioch High School. If a float entry or group, vehicle, or music is planned, please contact Glenda at Village Parks and Recreation at (312) 395-6212.

Some volunteers have already come forward. For more information call (312) 395-2700 or 395-6212.

Fire Dept. To Hold Fire Prevention Week

Each year the damage caused by fire costs the United States millions of dollars. That's why this year's Fire Prevention Week, sponsored by the Antioch Fire Dept., is such an important event.

Fire Prevention Week will begin on Monday, Oct. 6 and continue through Oct. 13. It's main function, according to Gary Quedenfeld of the Antioch Fire Dept., is to make people more aware of the dangers of fire and how to prevent them from occurring.

Events scheduled include informative lectures about fire prevention for children to be held on Oct. 8, 9, and 10. There will also be an open house at the fire station on Oct. 11.

For more information about the upcoming Fire Prevention Week call the station at (312) 395-1355.

Weekend Rotary Auction A Success

The Rotary's annual Barbecue Dinner and Auction, held on Saturday, Sept. 27, was a big success. The annual dinner and auction is the Rotary Club's biggest fund-raising event every year, and this year's success will help support worthy causes and the club's operating funds.

With over 500 people in attendance, the Barbecue and Auction raised over $30,000.

121 items were put on the bidding floor at the VFW Action Center on North Ave., and each item was sold. This dinner, and the Scholarship Race, provide for the majority of the club's finances. The Rotary Club appreciates all donations of items sold at the auction.

Attends Illinois College

Steve Behrendt is one of 256 freshmen enrolled at Illinois College in Jacksonville for the fall semester. He is the son of Tom and Sally Behrendt of Antioch.

Illinois College, a four-year liberal arts institution, is one of but five private colleges in the state entitled to grant membership in Phi Beta Kappa, the nation's highest scholastic honor society.

The college was founded by a group of Yale missionaries in 1829. It was the first college in Illinois to graduate a class, in 1835.

Antioch Woman To Exhibit Craft

Antioch resident Jane Craner has been selected to be one of the exhibitors at this year's "Fall Diddley," a fall festival of arts and crafts to be held Saturday and Sunday, Oct. 18 and 19, at the McHenry County Fairgrounds. Craner will be exhibiting her carousel horse paintings.

Fairgoers will be able to browse through seven buildings and view the work of over 200 artists and crafters. Along with Ms. Craner's work, there will be a wide variety of crafts including silk and dried flowers, folk art, handmade jewelry, pottery, patchwork, applique and other fabric crafts, toys, needlework, woodcraft, photography and paintings.

There will also be a wide variety of activities for children, including a petting zoo, pony rides, games and a moon walk. There will be entertainment throughout the day and plenty of food, including a pig roast.

Proceeds from this event go to the Mental Health Resource League for McHenry County to help finance programs for the developmentally disabled and mentally ill. Admission is $1 for adult, 50 cents for children, with under 5 free. The show runs from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. both days. The McHenry County Fairgrounds are located on Rte. 47, one mile north of Rte. 14 and one mile south of Rte. 120, in Woodstock.

Residents Reel In Wake Of Flood

Officials Estimate $30 Million In Damages

by CHARLES JOHNSTON
Managing Editor

Nearly a week and a half of torrential rains that don't stop, but merely pause to build up steam, have caused what is being called the worst flood in Lake County history. The only floods in this century that have come close to equaling this one happened in 1960 and 1938.

At press time, Red Cross officials estimated that at least 300 people had been forced from their homes. Damage estimates throughout the county are reaching upwards of $30 million and it isn't over yet.

The situation led Gov. Thompson to declare Lake County a disaster area. Lt. Gov. George Ryan visited Gurnee on Monday, Sept. 29 to examine one of the three Gurnee, a residential area of Round Lake Beach, and Libertyville Estates subdivision. Area legislators and state officials are formally requesting that President Reagan declare Lake County a federal disaster area, which would bring federal funds to the county to help alleviate the cost of repairing the damage.

Lakeland Newspapers has been flooded with calls from angry readers who complain that their village, township, park district, etc. have not provided proper drainage systems. But with such a phenomenal flood, local officials can't begin to sort those problems out until the water begins to recede, probably later this week. Many township road com-week. Among the worst are portions of Rte. 41, Rtes. 21 and 132 through Gurnee, North Ave. in Antioch, and Rte. 60 in Vernon Hills. Residents who expect to travel are being advised to contact WXLC Radio in Waukegan or WBBM or WGN in Chicago.

Overnight shelters for families forced out of their homes have been set up at Avon Center School in Round Lake Beach and Mundelein High School. The local Red Cross is offering assistance to those in need and St. Therese Hospital has set up a special relocation assistance number, (312) 249-3900.

Ron Riepe of Grayslake has been a geologist on staff at CLC since 1972. He said that a rainfall such as this is flood of 1960 - and they have built more there since then," Riepe noted. "Driving through Libertyville the other week, I saw them building homes in spots that I know are flooded now. The information is available as to what areas are prone to flooding, but officials have to start checking it out with us before allowing construction to start."

While many throughout the county were trying to weather the storm, it was clear that Lake County residents had not lost their sense of humor. Already the flood jokes have started. Among the better lines that have been heard:

"A few more days of this and we'll have to change our name to Island County."

"The Coast Guard has put out a small craft warning - for Warren Twp."

"The county board is reconsidering Mickey Babcox' request for a helicopter to patrol the Chain O'Lakes - he's got twice as many to patrol now."

"I went to close on a house I bought and they wanted an extra $10,000 - said it was lakefront property now."

Whether with humor or old-fashioned grit, most county residents are making do as best they can. In some areas, such as Gurnee and Round Lake Beach, displaced residents have been evacuated by rowboat. In Third Lake, residents are getting in and out with the help of a township road vehicle that has a scoop on the front. The truck comes in, people climb into the scoop and are taken to dry ground.

Throughout the county, officials report that those who have been least affected have volunteered in unprecedented numbers to help those who have been hit the worst.

By midweek, the rains should end and residents of the county can begin the effort to rebuild. In the short term, this flood will have a heavy economic impact across the county. In the end, though, the enduring legacy of this disaster will probably come 30 years from now when another flood hits the county. People who are children now will say to their children and grand-children then, "Aw, this is nothing compared to the great flood of '86."

Health Board Offers Flood Tips

The division of environmental health of the Lake County Health Dept. has been receiving numerous inquiries and is collecting samples from private wells in those areas of Lake County that have been affected by floods.

Samples from private wells will be collected upon request after the flood waters have receded. There is no charge for this service.

Wells that have been flooded should be considered polluted until bacteriological testing indicates that the water is safe to drink.

The following should be followed to minimize health hazards from flooded wells:

1. Water from wells which have been flooded can be made safe for drinking by boiling vigorously for 20 minutes. If unable to boil it, add five drops of household bleach to each gallon of water, mix and allow to stand for 30 minutes. (A slight trace of chlorine should be noticeable in the treated water.) Only water that is free of sediments and clean in appearance should be treated chemically.

2. Have the well disinfected if the results of the bacteriological testing are unsatisfactory. The health dept. will provide instructions for disinfecting wells, but recommends that a licensed well contractor inspect and disinfect the well.

Flood conditions may cause other health hazards too. The Lake County Health Dept. recommends the following:

1. Before re-entering your home or basement, make sure that no electrical or other safe hazards such as leaking gas exist.

2. Do not eat foods that have been exposed to flood water, unless the foods are in cans, bottles or other sealed containers. All spoiled foods and leaky or bulged cans should be discarded. All cans, bottles and other sealed containers of food or beverage should be immersed, before opening, for 10 minutes in a chlorine solution made by adding a half cup of laundry bleach to three gallons of water. Food should then be cooked thoroughly after opening the container, if possible.

3. Scrub basement and areas in the house that have been flooded with a detergent solution and flush with safe water after the basement drains or has been pumped out. Then flush or mop with a disinfecting solution of one-half cup of household bleach in a pail of water.

4. Scrub furniture, floors, walls and appliances with soap and safe water.

5. Thoroughly wash and disinfect clothing, bedding and linens.

6. Wash hands thoroughly with warm water and soap and clean under fingernails after working in flooded areas, and especially before eating or smoking.

7. Watch children and pets closely. They should not play in, run through, or drink flood waters (even water from small puddles) because they could become ill.

8. Wash toys and rinse with bleach solution of a half cup bleach to three gallons of water. Then rinse again with clean water. If the toys are not easily cleanable, discard them.

hardest hit areas in the county. He took an inspection tour of Gurnee by rowboat and later surveyed county-wide damage by helicopter. In a news conference at the Gurnee Fire Station, Ryan said that "It's a mess," and added that getting children back in school was a priority. For many, that was among the lowest priorities. In Fox Lake, some students were released from school to help pile sandbags in the Eagle Point area.

The three hardest hit areas were downtown missioners and public works employees have worked nearly round the clock since last Friday. Some, after their shift is over, have continued to work on a voluntary basis.

Damage to area roads will remain throughout the winter. Public works officials fear that, after the water goes down, winter will come quicker than they will be able to repair all the damage. Nearly every major artery in the county has had standing water at some time over the weekend and into the first part of this within the range of averages for September.

"It is something that will occur only once every 25 to 30 years," he said, "but it is within the range of normalcy."

Riepe added that the soil reached a point of saturation sometime on Friday and could hold little or no water since then. He criticized local planners for continuing to allow construction in spots that are susceptible to floods.

"The same areas in Gurnee that are under water now were under water in the

Flood Loan Program Opened By Area Bank

Flood victims can obtain emergency loans in as little time as 48 hours under a new program instituted by Grayslake National Bank.

Householders in need of money for repairs or rebuilding will have their choice of a loan at floating prime or a fixed rate of 8 1/2 percent.

"Our aim is to help the scores of area residents whose lives have been disrupted by flooding as quickly as possible," stated Lillian Voldan, vice president of Grayslake National.

The emergency loans can be structured as three-year balloon type mortgages or installment loans.

Mary Braun, a personal banker working on the special loan project, stressed that Grayslake National is prepared to tailor-make assistance on a basis of need.

"Some people have appliances ruined while others have had entire rooms destroyed. We want to help, whether needs are large or small," Braun stated. It will not be necessary for flood victims to have an account relationship with Grayslake National.

Applications for emergency flood loans will be given top priority, according to Braun, who said it is envisioned that many loans can be approved within 48 hours.

Plan Educational Program

The Women's Advisory Committee at the North Chicago Veterans Administration Medical Center is planning a special educational program entitled "Salute to Women Veterans" on Saturday, Nov. 8. The committee is compiling a list of female veterans in Kane, Lake, McHenry and Cook Counties for the mailing list for the event and ongoing activities of the committee. If you are a female veteran or know someone who is, please contact Kathleen McHugh at (312) 686-1900, extension 3142.

Desiree Plays 'Annie'

Desiree Russell, Mundelein, first runner-up in the Miss Mundelein Pageant and 1986's Little Miss Jr. Illinois, is playing the title role of 'Annie' in the DesPlaines Theater Guild's production.

Gear CLC Production To Family

The magic and innocence reflected in "Story Theater," the College of Lake County's fall theater production, will appeal to the whole family. Adapted for the stage by Second City co-founder Paul Sills, "Story Theater" is a collection of stories from the Grimm Brothers and Aesop's Fables.

Directed by CLC theater instructor Robert J. Coscarelli, the play takes place on a bare stage floor with a cast that has nothing up their sleeves but talent.

Cast members are: Neil Bergman-Highland Park, Meagan Cotton-Mundelein, Rick French-Lake Villa, Eric Hall-Libertyville, James Hassett-Winthrop Harbor, Mary Krueger-Mundelein, John Kilbourne-Waukegan, Steve Martin-Waukegan, Jennifer McIlroy-Libertyville, Richard Ruesch-Waukegan, Charlotte Simon-Highland Park, Rachel Schullien-Libertyville and Debi White-Grayslake.

In makeshift costumes pulled from an old trunk, the actors bring a sense of wonder and delight to a series of diverse sketches.

"Story Theater" will run Oct. 10, 11 and 17 at 7:30 p.m. and Oct. 12 and 18 at 2 p.m. The performance on Oct. 18 will have an interpreter for the hearing impaired.

Tickets are $4 for the general public and $2 for students, staff and alumni. Tickets can be purchased at the student activities office in Building 1 or by calling (312) 223-6601, ext. 550. Special prices are available for groups.

Genesee Production To Open

"Of Mice And Men," John Steinbeck's moving play about rural Americana, begins a limited three weekend run this Friday, Oct. 3 at 8 p.m. at the Genesee Theatre in Waukegan.

The Potawatomi Theatre's premier production features Scott Urban of Chicago, Tim Holt of Wildwood, and John Harvey of Waukegan in the timeless story about every man's desire for land of his own.

Tickets are now on sale for this classic drama at the Genesee Theatre box office. Reservations can be made by calling (312) 336-0428. Ticket prices are $6 for adults and $4 for students, seniors, and military.

When "Of Mice And Men" was first written in 1937, the Chicago Tribune wrote: "Brutality and tenderness mingle in these strangely moving pages."

The New York Times called it: "a thriller, a gripping tale that you will not set down until it is finished...Steinbeck has touched the quick."

Performance dates for "Of Mice And Men" are: Oct. 3, 4, 10, 11, 18, at 8 p.m. There will be a special Sunday matinee performance on Oct. 19 at 2 p.m. Tickets may be purchased at the door prior to each performance. The historic Genesee Theatre is located at 205 N. Genesee St. in Waukegan.

Museum Sponsors Workshop

On Sunday, Oct. 5, the Lake County Museum Assn. Gift Shop is sponsoring a watercolor workshop.

The workshop will run from 9:30 a.m. to 3:30 p.m. and will be held in the Museum Annex. It is being taught by Lake Bluff watercolorist Jan Hull. Jan teaches traditional, transparent watercolor technique and has taught students of all abilities. The cost of the workshop is $35. Students must furnish their own supplies and a list will be given by calling the Museum at (312) 526-7878.

The Museum is located seven and one-half miles west of Mundelein on Rt. 176 in the Lakewood Forest Preserve.

Chorale To Hold Its Open Sing

The Liberty-Fremont Chorale, sponsored by the Liberty-Fremont Concert Society and conducted by new Music Director David Katz, will hold an open-sing for new and returning members at Community Protestant Church, Mundelein, at 7:30 p.m. on Tuesday, Oct. 7.

All persons interested in singing with a fine adult choral organization are invited to learn more about the Chorale. Maestro Katz will rehearse the choir in choral favorites by Handel, Bach, and others, accompanied by Lenore Lams. The Chorale's open-sing is a prelude to regular choral rehearsals that begin Oct. 14. Refreshments will be served.

The 13th season of the Liberty-Fremont Chorale will feature a "Choral Holiday" concert on Dec. 5 including Saint-Saens' richly melodic "Christmas Oratorio," the world premiere of Katz' "Holiday Carols" and selections by English composers.

An all-Beethoven concert highlighting the chorale and Lenore Lams, piano soloist, in collaboration with the Elgin Symphonette, will be presented April 10 in the Libertyville area and April 12 in Elgin.

Katz, appointed music director of the Liberty-

Fremont Chorale last spring, is associate conductor of the Elgin Symphony Orchestra and music director of the Elgin Symphonette and Elgin Area Youth Orchestras.

Former vice president of the Association of Connecticut Choruses, he was the first conductor to lead that organization's statewide choral festival in 1983.

The Liberty-Fremont Concert Society will open its 1986-87 season with a performance by Chrysolith, the flute and harp duo, on Oct. 5. To learn more about the Chorale's open-sing, the Chrysolith concert and other programs, call (312) 680-1489 or (312) 526-2472.

'Annie' Going 'Great Guns'

by CINDY KUJAK

"Doin' What Comes Natur'ly," the P.M.&L. Community Theatre has begun its 26th season with another hit, "Annie Get Your Gun," a performance the whole family can enjoy.

Donna Badtke portrays Annie Oakley, a rugged character who has done her best to make sure her four young siblings grow up fit in body and mind, who sadly awakens to the realization that "You Can't Get A Man With A Gun." Donna's expression is high-spirited, as is her voice, which holds up amazingly throughout the play.

When Frank Butler (Donna's real-life hubby, Mark Badtke), who admits he's a "...Bad, Bad Man," shows up sporting white suit, cowboy hat and rhinestone tie, Annie is star-struck, and surprised when he turns out to be her opponent in a marksmanship competition. Mark plays his role well and demonstrates a fantastic voice.

Cindy Contois, Sarah Bach, Jessica Springer, and James Dalgaard all do superb jobs as Annie's shy, ragamuffin siblings.

Jerry Phalen is Charlie Davenport (manager of Buffalo Bill's show). He has to be Charlie. No one could take on a characterization this well!

Sitting Bull, played by Sid Groner, is a very authentic-looking Indian, and quite a comical character.

And speaking of colorful characters—Dolly Tate, portrayed well by Tracy Kiederlen, certainly is one. Dolly has seen it all, and is the opposite extreme of the innocent Annie.

Towering Randy Margison gives a rather stilted performance as a dignified Buffalo Bill.

All in all, it's an extremely entertaining performance, with one of the best scenes being a standoff between Annie and Frank singing "Anything You Can Do."

The production will run through Oct. 11. For reservations call (312) 395-3055.

Start Adler's Barn Dances

Music will be provided by the Its Fer Reel String Band, featuring Tom Grim, Gordon Parriott and Joe Samojedny.

Admission to the dance is

$3. The David Adler Cultural Center, 1700 N. Milwaukee Ave., Libertyville, is a non-profit organization. For more information, call (312) 367-0707.

Laughing Room Only Is Great For Laughs

by CHARLES JOHNSTON
When most people hear of a local comedy club, they think of the amateur theatrics of their old high school variety show. At least I do. At first, when I walked into Laughing Room Only at 513 Park Ave. (Rte. 176) in Libertyville, there was nothing that met the eye to change that expectation. The comedy club lounge is in a converted VFW Hall in back of Freddie's Pizza Pub and Eatery. It looks like a converted VFW Hall.

The normal schedule at Laughing Room Only is to have a rookie comedian act as emcee, then bring out an up-and-coming act, and end with an established comedian who has a good following.

The emcee, Ken Olshansky, appeared first and was spotty. He rattled off a few good lines, but tried more that never got off the ground. He was obviously feeling his way towards developing a routine.

But then, Lew Schneider came on and the magic began. A cerebral type of comic, Schneider began his solo act a year and a half ago and has been polishing it since.

"That blotch on Mikhail Gorbachev's head looks kind of like Afghanistan, doesn't it?" he asked the audience. "I hope to God it's not like a mood ring."

Schneider has a talent for misdirection. He leads his audience down a path where they think they know what's coming and then pops out with something completely unexpected. He has Johnny Carson's fine touch in recovering from a gag that bombs and making that, itself, into a joke.

Schneider won't need much more polish before he's ready for prime time.

The final act was the popular Tim Cavanaugh. His mainstay is audience participation. His timing and patter are professional and smooth. When a heckler shot a line at him, Cavanaugh recovered in a manner that showed he has been in the business a long time.

Throughout the night, the laughter was convulsive among the audience of about 80 people. My chest hurt after it was over from laughing so hard.

Laughing Room Only is a professional comedy club, so forget about those high school variety shows and think of it as an HBO production. You'll laugh harder here.

Owner Fred Mantas brought comedy to the area and he comes by it honestly. His father, Georgie Mann, spent 25 years as an actor, comedian, and musician on television and stage. Mann still makes commercials in New York near his home.

Debbie Ward, an attractive young brunette, books the acts for both Laughing Room Only and for Roars in Highwood. She is the antithesis of the cigar chomping tough guy one would expect in this role. Having always had a love for live comedy, Ward decided a few years ago that there ought to be a club closer than Chicago to the northern suburbs. Now she has two.

You don't have to go to Chicago to see professional comedy. For a great, entertaining night out, this reviewer highly recommends Laughing Room Only behind Freddie's Pizza Pub and Eatery in Libertyville. Call (312) 362-8760 for reservations.

The mushroom and its mystique will be savored in a variety of forms at the 3rd Annual Mushroom Fair scheduled from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. on Sunday, Oct. 5 in the Milwaukee Public Museum.

Rehearses 'King and I'

The classic Rodgers and Hammerstein musical "The King and I" comes to Marriott's Lincolnshire Theatre on Oct. 15, previewing through Oct. 19, opening Oct. 22 and playing through Jan. 18, 1987.

Set in the splendors of 19th Century Siam, "The King and I" recounts a proper British widow's travels to the Orient to serve as a tutor to the numerous children of the king. Against this exotic background, the teacher's most interested pupil eventually turns out to be the king himself, learning to govern his country in more enlightened Western ways.

Marriott veteran Mary Ernster ("Brigadoon" and "Give My Regards To Broadway") will star as the prim, witty and independent teacher, Anna, singing such glorious Rodgers and Hammerstein melodies as "Hello, Young Lovers," "I Whistle a Happy Tune" and "Getting to Know You."

Co-starring with her is another Marriott stage veteran, Ray Frewen ("A Chorus Line") as the stoic king.

A romantic undertone, never quite openly expressed, dramatizes the relationship between these two forceful individuals who respect each other but can never achieve anything more than a guarded truce in the battle of their ideas.

Susan Moniz and Kurt Johns play Tuptim and Lun Tha. These two lovers are forced to hide their feelings as expressed by their romantic songs, "We Kiss in a Shadow" and "I Have Dreamed." Others featured in "The King and I" cast will be Ann Arvia, Neil Freidman, Todd Schmarak, David Lundholm, Michael Wise and Michelle Kelly, and the largest cast ever assembled for Marriott's stage.

Produced by Kary M. Walker; directed by Jeff Award winner Dominic Missimi ("Gypsy"); sets by Thomas Ryan; costumes by Nancy Missimi; lighting design by John Williams; props by Kathy Klaisner; choreography by Michelle Kelly; and musical direction by Kevin Stites.

Name Powers

For the third consecutive year, Tim Powers has been selected "Outstanding Musician" by the staff of the Warhawk Summer Band Camp of the University of Wisconsin-Whitewater.

The award, based on ability, dedication, and cooperation, entitles him to a full scholarship to the 1987 Summer Band Camp.

Thomas Wubbenhorst, camp director, described Powers as "a rare talent, one that makes a band director's job a real pleasure. We will hear a lot more from this young man."

Powers, the son of Rick and Mary Lu Powers, Pad-dock Lake, is a junior at Central High School, where he is a member of the symphonic band, directed by Jack Plovovich. He has studied privately under the instruction of Jack Niccolai for six years.

Jailed Sex Offender Seeks Girlfriend

PRISON INMATE desiring long lasting relationship with sincere physically attractive Christian woman. I'm 28 and into bodybuilding. Will soon attend university. Photograph will receive photograph. Tory Rachel, Box 147, Fox Lake, WI 53933

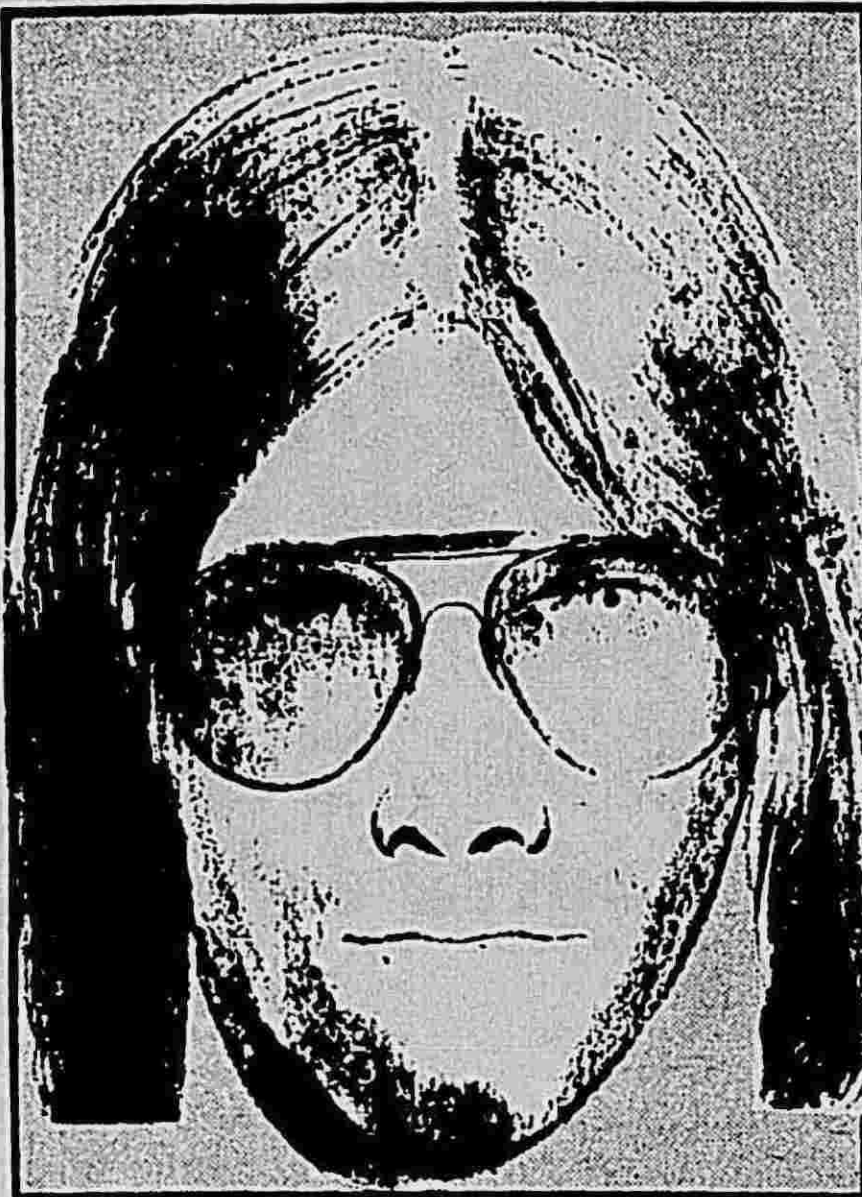

by GLORIA DAVIS

It is 1986, Tory Rachel, now 28 years old, is in a medium security prison in Fox Lake, Wis., having served a little over a year of a 12-year sentence he received after being convicted of the rape of a 25-year-old Salem, Wis. woman in 1981.

He has been in Fox Lake since June of 1985, when he was transferred there from Stateville Prison, Joliet, after serving two years and two months of three concurrent six-year sentences, two for sexual assault and one for breaking and entering. The first two sen-

At this point Rachel had already served four months of a nine month sentence for taking "indecent liberties" with a 13-year-old Lake Villa girl in 1980 when he was 22 years old.

During his 1981-82 rape spree, he was also high on the list of suspects in the rape of a 10-year-old Bassett, Wis. girl who, according to reports, cried everytime she saw his picture. The same source says that her parents did not proceed with charges because they felt that their daughter was already too emotionally upset over the situation.

Artist's Composite Of Salem Attacker

tences concerned his conviction for the 1982 attempt to assault a Lilymore, Ill. adolescent after breaking into her home. The third came after he pled guilty during plea-bargaining procedures, to taking indecent liberties with an 11-year-old Harvard, Ill. girl.

All three sentences, handed down by Judge Leonard Brody in a McHenry County Court, were minimum sentences, despite the repeated charges against Rachel.

At Rachel's sentencing, Brody reportedly said, "This man cannot be rehabilitated, he is a menace to society." He then gave him the minimum sentence allowed by law for each offense and made those sentences concurrent. So Rachel actually was remanded to serve only one sentence and he only served one-third of of that.

The prosecuting attorney, Gail Moreland, then an assistant McHenry County states attorney, who had asked for a 15-year sentence on the Lilymore case, said at the time "I have never known Judge Brody to give anything but minimum sentences." The attorney added that putting an 11-year-old girl through further such legal proceedings with this being the case was what led to the plea-bargaining.

It was the 1980 charge, made by a 13-year-old Lake Villa girl that first focused Lakeland Newspapers' special attention on Rachel.

After Rachel received "a slap on the wrist" for assaulting her, she and her father came to Lakeland Newspapers with their story.

"He raped me and he will rape again," the teenage girl warned, despite the fact that a mostly female Lake County jury, impressed by his good looks, seemed convinced she had gone along with Rachel's seduction.

She and her family later attended all of Rachel's trials. She testified at some of the sentencing hearings.

One month after her attacker was released after serving half of what the victim thought was much too short a sentence to begin with, he attacked the woman in Salem, and the assaults on the other children followed.

In fact, since all of Rachel's known or intended victims were adolescents, it is supposed that he was unaware that he had attacked a mature woman in the Salem case.

She is a thin woman, with short blond hair, who wears little makeup. Clad in a jogging suit since she was running in the park when she was attacked, Rachel could have easily mistaken her for a teenager.

While the Lake Villa family was following Rachel's rape trail in Lake and Kenosha counties, a friend of their's came across him in much the same situation.

According to the McHenry Police files, this friend's 11-year-old daughter was babysitting with a five-year-old neighbor for a few hours while the parents were at work.

The 11-year-old received a phone call from a man who said he was the family doctor. He told her to do obscene things to the younger child, calling the younger child by name.

Frightened, she hung up and called for help. After the parents and the police arrived a van drove slowly by the home.

A McHenry policeman sighted the van driving slowly by the second time and pulled him over. The driver was Tory Rachel. No arrest could be made because he was breaking no law by driving past the house.

There were 22 counts of obscene telephone harassment against Rachel that were erased during plea-bargaining.

Rachel, who is now obviously looking for an "attractive" girlfriend for a relationship of sorts, as per the ad at the beginning of this story, could possibly be paroled in less than five years.

Regardless of his behavior, a prison official said that he would probably be out in less than nine years under the prison's present policies "unless he commits a crime in prison."

When he's not looking for a girlfriend through a newspaper (The ad at the beginning of story appeared in a personal column of Isthmus, a Madison weekly), Rachel spends his time either in his single or dual-person cell, at work assignments, enjoying some recreation, and attending classes. Note, according to his ad, he's into bodybuilding.

Prison social worker Jerilyn Spencer said that work assignments are not plentiful because of the heavy prison population. She also said that classes are supplied in the prison itself by the Marine Technical Institute in Fox Lake.

This reporter tried to interview Rachel about his prison life and the ad he placed and was told it was OK with prison officials, but Rachel had to decide if he wanted to do it and call collect for the interview.

After writing the requested letter explaining the type of article being planned, this reporter waited for Rachel's call for three weeks to no avail.

Lakeland was not able to find out if Rachel, an admitted and convicted sex criminal, has volunteered for, or undergone any form of counseling, a must if anything curative is to be accomplished.

Does just spending several years in prison necessarily prepare anyone to become a decent and worthwhile member of society?

The Salem woman, who was assaulted by Rachel has since moved. When she was apprised of the fact that her attacker was looking for "a long-lasting relationship with a Christian woman," and could be out of prison in five years or less said, "Even if he has undergone therapy, I really don't think it will do any good. I only hope that he won't do the same thing all over again when he is released."

The father of the Lake Villa girl had a similar reaction to the ad. "That's crazy," he said, "That kook's going to be out in a few years and he'll rape again."

The girl's mother said that the rape help counselor, Erin Willberger, that aided them during their daughter's situation warned, "He will rape again."

She voiced the fear that he would come back after he got out of prison. As did the Salem woman.

The Lake Villa girl herself, who is now 20 years old, said that she has mixed feelings about Rachel's present situation.

Upset because he only served a small part of what she thought was too lenient a sentence in Illinois, she said, "I don't think he'll ever serve the sentence he deserves."

Five years is a long time to someone in prison, but a very short time to those who dread their attacker getting out of prison.

"Where do we go? Do we have to uproot ourselves and our families?" cry his victims.

But are the victims and their families the only sufferers in sexual assault cases?

Tory's parents moved out of the area awhile ago, his father saying his business had been ruined by the publicity on his son. In May, Tory's brother Lance was convicted of a class 2 felony, aggravated criminal sexual abuse, in connection with the fondling of an 8-year-old girl. He is presently on probation.

A familiar story that strikes fear in the hearts of his brother's victims. They ask, "Is it starting all over again?"

Plastic Kills

According to many experts, plastic trash thrown into oceans may be as big a problem, if not bigger, than oil spills. Non-biodegradable plastic waste is killing up to one million seabirds, 100,000 sea mammals, and countless fish each year. Part of the problem is that seals, turtles, fish, and birds become entangled, and then die, in discarded fishing nets and strapping bands.

"YOUR TYPEWRITER HEADQUARTERS SINCE 1945"

The Great Flood Of 1986 Washes Out Games

by CAROLYN HAMMOND
(312) 395-6081

What a difference a day makes? Here we all were wondering if it was about time to start collecting animals and building an ark, when "lo and behold" Saturday turned out to be a beautiful day. At least we all got a chance to cut the grass before the next storm hit. On the sports scene, wet field conditions caused many game cancellations.

The Lindenhurst Youth Soccer League, which many Antioch children participate in, will make up its cancelled Saturday schedule during the end of season playoffs.

The Sequoit Varsity football team managed to play its game at home against Zion-Benton but lost 15-0. The Sophomore team had a good day beating the Zee-Bees in a close 7-6 game.

Under heavily clouded evening skies, the Antioch High School "Marching Sequoit" band competed in the "Chicagoland Marching Band Festival" at Wheeling High School. Sixteen bands, divided into three classes, fought it out during the four and one-half hour show. Antioch placed fifth in a heated contest where only 6/10 of a point on a scale of one to 100 separated the third and fifth place winners. The top band in Antioch's class garnered only 5.7 points more than them. Good job, kids!

The "Marching Sequoits" will perform next at the Warhawk Tournament of Bands at the University of Wisconsin at Whitewater on Saturday, Oct. 11. Band parents, come out and support your kids! It's always a good show!

The Antioch Viking Junior Tackle Football League cancelled its Featherweight schedule this weekend also due to wet field conditions.

On Wednesday, Sept. 24, the Antioch Viking Lightweight Traveling team slugged it out (or should I say mud wrestled) with McHenry winning 18-0 during a torrential rainstorm. Antioch scored in the first quarter on a one yard run by quarterback Tom Lehn. Lehn and Timm Clark combined in the second quarter on a 30-yard pass play for another TD. The final six points came on a Garrett Horn 22-yard run.

On Sunday, Sept. 28, the Lightweights made it 5-0 for the season with a 33-6 win over Winnetka. In the first series of plays, Antioch scored on a quarterback sneak by Tom Lehn. Winnetka then ran the ball back 70 yards for a TD on the kickback. In the second quarter, Lehn passed to end Timm Clark for another score. Aaron Martin ran for the extra point. Antioch scored again on the same play with Lehn kicking the extra two point conversion. In the third quarter a Garrett Horn run scored after a series of runs by Mark Plonka. The final TD was made by Paul Adellczi on a five-yard run.

The Antioch Viking Heavyweight Traveling team also had a good week winning two games and bringing their season record to 4-1. Also in the pouring rain at McHenry on Wednesday, Sept. 24, Antioch beat them 28-6. In the first quarter, quarterback Dan Pappadakis scored on a 25-yard running play, and tailback Dan Stout scored on a 35-yard run. In the second quarter, quarterback Ken Paddock passed to flanker Scott Johnson for a 30-yard TD. Adam Perry kicked a two point conversion. At the half Antioch led 20-0. In the second half Ken Paddock scored on a 12-yard quarterback keeper. Adam Perry kicked for two more points. On the last play of the game, McHenry scored on a broken play for their six points. Outstanding offensive linemen were: Dan English, Frank Hannigan, Rich Grandstart, Adam Perry, Jermey Smith, and Jack Thompson. The whole defense played extremely well, almost gaining a shutout.

On Sunday, Sept. 28, at Winnetka, the final score for the Heavyweights was Winnetka 0, Antioch 18. In the second quarter, tailback Dale Morgan scored on an off-tackle five-yard run. Adam Perry kicked for two points. In the fourth quarter, quarterback Dan Pappadakis once again combined with flanker Scott Johnson to score on a 35-yard pass. Shutting Winnetka out with a great defensive effort were Tim O'Neal, Travis Bloom, Jason DeBruhl, Mike Warren, and linebacker Ken Paddock.

Both traveling teams are in first place in the North Division of the Junior Football League of Northern Illinois. They will be home Sunday, Oct. 5, at Antioch High School against Fox Lake.

Starting times have been reversed: Heavyweights, 12:45 p.m., Lightweights 2:30 p.m.

The Mens Basketball League sponsored by Antioch Parks and Recreation began its current season Sept. 30 at Antioch Upper Grade School. The league meets at 7:15 p.m. Tuesday evenings. For more information call (312) 395-2160.

The Antioch Twp. Library has a host of activities scheduled for October including a three- to five-year-old story time for children who are three by Oct. 2. Each story time will last for a half hour and will offer a variety of activities for children. Children in kindergarten may attend.

For first through fifth graders, the library sponsors an activity from 10:30 to 11:30 a.m. each Saturday.

The Reading Club will have a "Monster Club" during October. They will meet as a group twice, read 12 books, and receive a "chilling" surprise! On Oct. 4 they will build a "terrifying" bulletin board at the library.

On Oct. 8 the library will show the movie "Misty" at 7 p.m. For additional information call (312) 395-0874.

The eighth grade class of Antioch Upper Grade School will be starting its 15th annual pizza sale on Oct. 3, running through Oct. 16. Give these kids your support; since 1972 the eighth grade class has raised the money to completely pay for its Dinner-Dance held the following May. It's a wonderful tradition!

Even the little ones get into the act... Antioch Parks and Recreation will host a "Mini-Olympics" at Williams Park on Main St. on Oct. 3, for ages 5 and under who have not attended school yet. There will also be a diaper derby for non-walking babies. Registration

Park Dist. To Hold Mini-Olympics

The Antioch McDonalds and the Antioch Park Dist. are sponsoring a mini-olympics on Friday, Oct. 3. This co-sponsored event is open to all children five-years old and under. Registration begins at 9 a.m. on Friday.

The olympics will start at 10 a.m. Events scheduled include a frisbee toss, long-jumping, Mr. Muscle and Miss Smile contest and, as the finale, a diaper derby for all non-walking participants.

Williams Park is the location for the olympics. All events will take place under the pavillion, so the possibility of rain will not hinder the competition. This premier edition of the Antioch mini-olympics should conclude by noon on Friday.

time is 9 a.m.; starting time is 10 a.m. There will be many prizes awarded and much fun for the kids.

Moms of preschoolers, are you feeling frustrated and unappreciated? "Apron Strings & Play Things" may be the group for you. On Tuesday mornings from 9-11 a.m., they meet at Faith Lutheran Church, 1275 Main St., Antioch, to discuss womanhood, child rearing, and marriage from a Christian perspective. They teach crafts and share friendship. Structured child care is available. A free will offering will be taken.

Christmas is coming! The Antioch Senior Center is looking for people to help support their Christmas Bazaar to be held Friday, Oct. 10 through Saturday, Oct. 11. They need people to bring in usable rummage, sell tickets, and bake cakes and goodies. The proceeds will help pay for bills, new equipment or to repair used equipment, special parties or picnics, and supplies.

Bake Sale

The Ladies Auxiliary of Sequoit VFW Post 4551 of Antioch will have its third Annual Craft & Bake Sale on Saturday, Oct. 11 from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. at the Post Home. Free coffee will be served. Location of Post 4551 is 75 North Ave., just a half mile east of Rte. 83 (Main St.) in Antioch. Everyone is welcome.

Candle Open House

On Wednesday, Sept. 24, Grass Lake School held its Annual Open House. With a general power outage in the area, teachers described the instructional program over candlelight. Parents were urged to take an active interest and become involved in their child's education. Both parents and teachers found the open house useful in spite of the loss of electricity.

Fall Diddley Boosts Mental Health League

On Saturday and Sunday, Oct. 18 and 19, the McHenry County Fairgrounds will be the location of a fall craft show, "Fall Diddley," sponsored by the Mental Health Resource League for McHenry County. For 17 years, craft enthusiasts have enjoyed the "Fair Diddley" craft fair every May on the Woodstock Square, also sponsored by the Resource League. The proceeds from both shows benefit agencies throughout McHenry County concerned with the care of the developmentally disabled and mentally ill.

"Fall Diddley" will feature over 200 artists and crafters in seven buildings throughout the fairgrounds. Shoppers will find a wide variety of hand-made items including folk art, silk flowers, pottery, woodcrafts, handcrafted toys, baskets, jewelry, photography and paintings. While parents browse through the intriguing displays of arts and crafts, children will be entertained by a wide variety of activities especially for them. Animal lovers will enjoy the petting zoo and pony rides; the adventurous will thrill to the moonwalk; and children of all ages will enjoy having their faces painted. There will be entertainment throughout the day to keep the fairgoers in a festive mood. Well-known storyteller Jim May will keep his audience spellbound and folk music will keep people tapping their toes. There will also be plenty of food for hungry shoppers: chili, hot dogs, brats, donuts and apple cider, taffy apples, baked goods, popcorn, cotton candy and a pig roast.

"Fall Diddley" will be held Saturday and Sunday, Oct. 18 and 19, from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. at the McHenry County Fairgrounds, in Woodstock, on Rte. 47 one mile south of Rte. 120 and one mile north of Rte. 14. Admission is $1 for adults, 50 cents for children, with children under 5 free.

Early Darkness Sparks The Urge To Wander

It seems sad to have the sun disappear earlier each day. Many of us would like to standardize daylight hours, at least until the snow flies. For the road traveler it means stopping earlier in the p.m. to find lodgings. For the worker it means getting home after dark and, for the school child, it's shorter outdoor afternoons and more TV.

For those who travel in mediums other than the family vehicle, early darkness seems to clinch the desire to get away somewhere. Boat cruising display ads cominate big city papers this time of year and travel agents are reporting a rekindling of interest that waned so strongly last year due to foreign intervention, uncertainty and loss of the safety abroad feeling. People soon forget their fears, however, when nothing happens to remind them.

Even motor coach lines have larger passenger lists as the season advances into the fall color watching time of year. Although cross country bussing has nearly disappeared, both Greyhound and Trailways systems offer big travel bargains with coupon books covering stated dates with unlimited mileage. Initial books cost as little as $10 per day and cover a minimum of 15 days. Extra days are available at the same rate. However, each company recognizes only its own issue and no between-line transfers are possible. Consult a travel agent.

Lake Geneva's 9th annual classic car rally anticipates entries of between 400 and 600 special and vintage vehicles. It's a fund raising effort for childhood cancer research. Redistrations begin Saturday, Sept. 27, at the Americana Lake Geneva Resort, at 2 p.m. The tour ends Sunday and awards will be made at 2 p.m. at the same location following the noon grand car show finale. For information, call (414) 248-3536.

Dozens of imaginative cornfield and garden scarecrows will compete for visitor votes in St. Charles, Ill., the weekend of Oct. 11 and 12. Fox River valley fall colors will be at their heights. As a traditional fall festival, it offers the added savor of arts and crafts, cider, apples, pies and pumpkins. Horse drawn hay ride wagons will rumble riders and a farmer's market will vend fall fruits and vegetables. Even a scary haunted house will add to the Scarecrow Festival. Details are available from the St. Charles Visitor's Bureau, (312) 377-6161. Admission is free.

However one travels, there is need for a variety of personal conveniences to create the "home-away-from-home" feeling. A growing demand and resulting supply of mini-model personal appliances is in progress. Some of these include clocks, hair dryers, irons, shavers, and even portable office kits. Steamers for de-wrinkling clothing are popular, along with a new item; a small, portable combination burglar and fire alarm for any door. Calculators that translate currency values share acceptance with butane powered curling irons needing no electric cords. Gadgets? Maybe. But useful and easy to pack.

Magee School Planning For Fall Concert

The music department at Magee Middle School will present its fall concert at 7:30 p.m. Thursday, Oct. 9 in the Round Lake High School theater. The concert will feature selections by the Concert Band, under the direction of Debbie Durham, and the Varsity Band, directed by Darlene Kruger.

The Magee Chorus, directed by Beverly Westergren, will also perform. A variety of music will be presented during the program.

Admission is 50 cents per person, or $1.50 per family. Senior citizens and children under six are free.

Prettiest, Ugliest, Oldest- All Get Prizes In Dog Show

Some 25 youngsters under age 13 brought their dogs (and parents) to the 1986 All Kids Dog Show at Lakewood Forest Preserve, sponsored by the Animal Control Board. Warden Darrel Ross supervised the festivities, which included a German Shepherd canine unit demonstration by the Lake County Sheriff's Dept., and a Shetland sheepdog obedience demonstration by Lakeland Newspapers' "Pet Wise" columnist Charlene Whitney.

"Best in Show" was Sasha, a six and a half year-old Samoyed female handled by three-and-a-half year-old Jeff Svehla of Gurnee. Runner-up was Hercules, a one-and-a-half year-old Bull Terrier male handled by Arnie Franks of Deerfield.

All dogs received trophies or certificates in one or more of the ten categories, which included biggest, smallest, oldest, ugliest, prettiest, best trained, longest hair, shortest hair, fattest, and loudest bark.

Split Ticket Voters Are Key To Reelection

Steinke On Politics

by JOHN STEINKE
(Political Columnist)

In Lake County politics, the only contest generating any interest is the county clerk's race. Democratic incumbent Linda Hess is seeking reelection to a second four-year term in the Nov. 4 election. Her Republican opponent is County Board Dist. 4 Rep. Donna-Mae Litwiler of Ingleside. Four years ago, Hess defeated Republican Harry Thomas of Libertyville by 353 votes out of 110,187 registered in the contest. Hess succeeded Democrat Grace Mary Stern, who served three terms as county clerk.

The Democrats have monopolized this office for the past 16 years. Here are the election returns for the last four county clerk races:

Grace Mary Stern, Dem. 46,939 (50.5 percent)
Truman Gerretsen, Rep. 46,035 (49.5 percent)
Dem. Majority 904

1974
Grace Mary Stern, Dem. 51,694 (62.5 percent)
Margaret W. (Suzie) Metzler, Rep. 31,008 (37.5 percent)
Dem. Majority 20,686

1978
Grace Mary Stern, Dem. 62,736 (60.6 percent)
Helen Belmont Amendola Rep. 40,746 (39.4 percent)
Dem. Majority 21,990

1982
Linda Hess, Dem. 55,770 (50.2 percent)
Harry Thomas, Rep. 54,417 (49.8 percent)
Dem. Majority 353

Neither Stern nor Hess could have been elected without attracting Republican ticket-splitters to the normal Democratic base vote. The Republicans always have an advantage over the Democrats in straight-ticket voting. Hess will probably need a 3-2 margin among ticket-splitters to win reelection. See the adjoining table showing the distribution of straight party ballots and split ticket votes for the past four county clerk contests.

In 1970, Stern lost the straight party ballots by 9,515 votes while she captured the split tickets by 10,419. Mrs. Stern received 26,806 split votes (62.1 percent) out of 43,193 cast in the election. In 1974, Stern again lost the straight party vote by only 1,957. She received 38,433 split tickets (70.9 percent) out of 54,223 recorded in the race. Despite the GOP trend in Lake County, Stern was reelected to a third term in 1978. Once again, she lost the straight party ballots by 10,125 votes while she captured the split tickets by 32,115. Stern garnered 56,828 split votes (69.7 percent) out of 81,541 registered in the contest. Thus, GOP ticket-splitters helped "Amazing Grace" dodge a Republican bullet in three consecutive elections. Four years ago, Hess lost the straight party vote by 10,710 while she won the split votes by 11,603. Linda Hess received 40,750 split tickets (57.9 percent) out of 70,437 cast in race.

Hess cannot win reelection unless she mobilizes the base Democratic vote, along with 62 percent of the ticket-splitters this fall. Otherwise, we'll have Mickey's "Lip" administering the election machinery on behalf of one-party government. Then Mikhail Gorbachev will love Lake County.

Foot In The Door?

Developers of the huge Saddlebrook project in Fremont Twp. have been careful to follow the letter of the law in preparing their annexation agreement with Round Lake Park. Fortunately, they have also been cooperative in dealing with the affected governmental bodies.

Still, many questions remain. The development will bring 4,800 mobile homes (or manufactured homes, as the developer prefers to call them) into the heart of West Lake County over a 19 year period. Eighty-five percent of these, or 4,060 units, are to be reserved for an adult community.

The developer owns a 400-unit park in Sarasota, Fla. that is also designed for adults. That park is clean and well-kept.

In the south, adult mobile home parks have long been an attractive alternative to retirement apartments. The best are built with on-site commercial and recreational facilities, including parks.

The sheer size of this project scares us, though. Adults-only mobile home parks have not been commonly accepted in this area. Some reasons for that may be that older adults do not want to retire to such a park in this area, where it would mean fighting with the snow in the winter. Although the developer says that residents can be assured that it will remain 85 percent adult because it is in his financial interests to handle it that way, we are not so sure.

What if, a few years down the line, he discovers that it simply isn't selling as an adults-only community? A high profit margin is useless if the product doesn't sell. If that happens, the temptation will be great to simply sell the homes to whoever is willing to buy them.

Annexation agreements can be changed if both the developer and village agree on the change. We are concerned that if the project does not sell in its present form, we may find a very different project facing us just a few years from now.

Support Wauconda Schools

Wauconda Unit School Dist. 118 is seeking a 46-cent tax rate increase through a referendum question that will appear on the Nov. 4 ballot. We support their efforts.

For several years, Wauconda has had the lowest overall school tax rate in Lake County (to compare a unit district to dual districts, one must add the elementary and high school tax rates together.) People can argue over the quality of education at Wauconda's schools, but the simple fact is that Wauconda residents have been paying bargain rates for years.

Wauconda's school board has been more than responsible with the taxpayers' money over the years. Even with the proposed tax rate increase, Wauconda would still rank favorably with the rest of the county in its cost of providing education.

Now, the schools need the help of residents to insure that the budget will stay in balance. Quality cannot be preserved indefinitely at bargain basement rates.

The schools have given residents a break on their tax bills for years. Now it's time for residents to give the schools a break. Vote yes on Wauconda schools' request for a 46-cent rate increase.

Lakeland Color On Parade

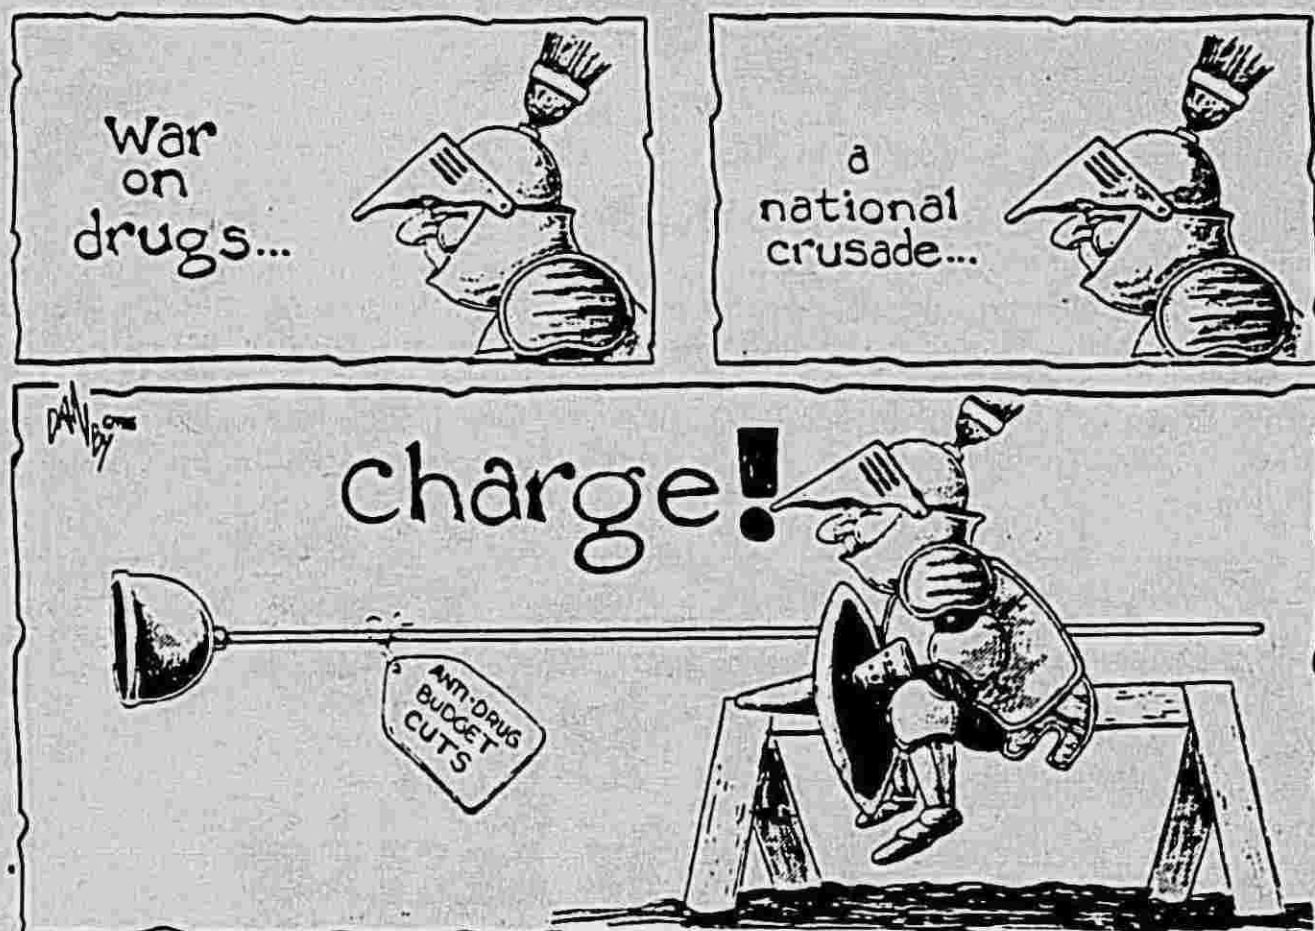

This is the time of year that Wisconsin and Michigan publicists extoll the virtues of a visit to enjoy Mother Nature's artistic work with fall foliage. The idea is to lure out-of-towners for one last trip to make tourism cash registers ring before winter arrives.

The attractions of the north woods to enjoy fall color at its best has always amused us because Mother Nature does right well in our locality doling up the countryside before the drabness of winter arrives. In a couple of weeks, the Lakeland area will be bursting with a rainbow panorama all its own. We'll match our fall colors against anything available in neighboring states. By investing a few hours for a leisurely drive, nature fans can enjoy themselves only a few miles from home.

Anyone who shares our enthusiasm for Lakeland's fall colors has some favorite roadways. Ours include country roads that take you close up to the colors like Fairfield, Port Clinton, Hunt Club, Gilmer, Millburn and Kelley Rds., to mention a few. Try these and we guarantee that you'll see a veritable fireworks.

With all the heavy rainfall, Lakeland's fall color season might be a little later than usual this year, but the trees are brimming with life right now which adds to the vibrance of the color. Enjoy!

Candidate Adlai Good At Arousing Sympathetic Feelings

RUNNING AGAIN—Dan Pierce, former state representative, is getting involved in politics again, but this time he'll be strictly local. Pierce, who represented just about every south and west Lake County community over the years, is in the race for mayor of Highland Park, his hometown. The election is next year. Pierce was interested in running for state office, but Democratic moguls never slated him.

LOTS OF WATER—Last week's flooding was mindful of heavy flooding in the Big Rain of '38. That deluge had folks searching for an ark and qualified as to what climatologists refer to as a 100 year rain. I vividly remember folks getting around in rowboats on Center St., Grayslake, and Lake St., Mundelein. Soo Line trains were slowed to a crawl as they puffed through water covering the tracks in Antioch and Lake Villa. Waterfront homes throughout the Chain-O-Lakes were inaccessible. That was a flood to end all floods as far as this locality is concerned.

FEDS ON JOB—Federal investigators are looking at the horrible Labor Day weekend boating tragedy that took five lives as a landmark for new on-the-water safety requirements, especially lighting.

Pete Jakstas, Fox Lake marina operator who has spent his life on the Chain O'Lakes, said that government safety experts went into every facet of the crash. Jakstas also noted that the bow lights on new boats can be covered with a half dollar. Put the two observations together and you get a picture of the crying need for new regulations for boat lights as we noted in this column two weeks ago.

The problem is that lights can't be made "pretty." As boat designers go for the sleek look on so many craft, lights are downgraded to the point of virtual non-existence on many models.

Let there be light!

COPTER FAVOR—We're indebted to Donald Hjortland, who maintains a helicopter at Campbell Airport for giving Charlie Johnston of our news staff a ride around the Lakeland area to take aerial photos. Hjortland uses the copter to shuttle between his plants in Fox Lake and Elk Grove Village. Some of the photos already have appeared and more will be coming. We hope to be the recipient of Hjortland's hospitality in the future to get more news photos for our readers.

THERE ARE NO NEW SINS—THE OLD ONES JUST GET MORE PUBLICITY

Fall's Just Ripe For Apple-Picking

by SUSAN MONTGOMERY

An old-fashioned day in the country.

The Lakeland area may be growing by leaps and bounds, bursting at the seams with fast-growing industry, but those in search of the tranquil, rural atmosphere can still satisfy their needs for a day in the country without heading straight for the North Woods.

One family-type activity that's always popular and easy to come by throughout north Illinois and just over the Wisconsin border is apple-picking time. With numerous orchards all over the area, apple-picking for many has become an annual event that welcomes in the fall season.

For Bob Quig, whose family has owned and operated Quig's Orchard in Mundelein for 40 years, his work is more than just a business, but a way of preserving part of Mundelein's early heritage.

Antiques and reliques like an old blacksmith's anvil adorn the walls of his country store. "We like to keep a rural atmosphere here. People coming out from the city want to feel like they're in the country," he says.

Quig, who is continuing the business begun by his parents, Mildred and Henry Quig, says the rapport he shares with other area orchard owners is of a friendly nature.

"It's a close group of people. I don't consider them competition, but all friends in the same business," he says.

The following is a list of orchards in the Lake County and southern Wisconsin areas:

Quig's Orchard Rte. 60, Mundelein

Open every day year-round from 9 a.m. to 5:30 p.m., the 22-acre orchard has Paula Red, McIntosh, Jonathan, Red Delicious, Golden Delicious, Rome Beauty and Mutsu. Most popular varieties include Jonathans, Red Delicious and Golden Delicious. A drive leads to the back of the property for patrons to park and pick their own.

Quig's store also sells fresh cheeses, sausage, doughnuts, cider, syrups, jams, a variety of homemade fudge and a selection of bake goods. Ample parking for the store is available.

Dickson's Orchard 28621 Neville Rd. Wauconda

Dickson's Orchard is open now through Nov. 1 for picking your own apples. 14 varieties of apples are grown at Dickson's, though amounts of certain apples may vary. Ginger and Ed Dickson are the owners of this family business, and they live on the premises.

Dickson's is open from 10 a.m. to 6 p.m. everyday. Also available at the orchard are home-made apple cider and caramel apples. The price for these apples is 27 cents per pound. For more information, call (312) 526-6458.

Orlolo Spring Twin Lakes, Wis.

Open every day from 9 a.m. to 6 p.m., the orchard is located three miles south of Twin Lakes on State Line Rd. near 128th St. Pick your own. Current crops include Red Delicious and Jonathans. Picking for Golden Delicious will start around Oct. 4. Apple-picking will continue until everything is gone or until mid-November.

Already-picked apples are available, along with cider, cheeses, pumpkins, doughnuts, gords and Indian corn.

Wauconda Orchards 1201 Gossell Rd. Wauconda

Golden Delicious apples will be ready to pick beginning Thursday, Oct. 2. The famous old country store and restaurant at Wauconda Orchards is open seven days a week from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. through the harvest season.

Beer and brat festivals, featuring a live band, will be held every Saturday and Sunday through Oct. 12.

Raspberries can be picked until the first frost. Pumpkins will be available after Oct. 1.

Fall Pickin'

Alan Quig of Quig's Orchard in Mundelein is part of a third generation involved in this family-owned business. Alan's father, Bob, says orchard owners in Lake County share a friendly rapport. "I don't consider them competition, just friends in the same business," Bob says.

Victory, CLC Present Forum For New Moms

"From a fashion standpoint, it's a good year to be pregnant. Today's styles include stirrup pants, large sweaters and brightly colored geometric patterns, which are all easily adaptable to maternity clothing," according to Heidi Nicholls, of Dan Howard Industries.

Nicholls will be working with Victory Memorial Hospital of Waukegan and the College of Lake County (CLC) to produce a maternity fashion show as part of "Dreams, Decisions and Diapers...on Becoming a Mother," a one-day conference scheduled for Saturday, Oct. 18, at CLC in Grayslake.

"Today's women buy a maternity wardrobe for looks. The perception has changed about pregnant women. They are not hidden away; they're working; they're exercising," said Nicholls. "Women want to project the same image during pregnancy as they did before. Our message for pregnant women is that they can do it."

In addition to the maternity fashion show, specialists in medicine, child development, psychology and finance will lead workshops. The fashion show will take place during lunch.

Persons interested in registering should call CLC's adult and continuing education department at (312) 223-3616. For information on workshop topics, call Victory Hospital at (312) 390-4246.

Healthier Trees

Life in the big city is tough, especially for trees. But soon, healthier strains of trees may be developed that can survive and beautify the city. The Illinois Tollway Authority is supporting a program at the Morton Arboretum in suburban Chicago, that would breed trees and shrubs that could tolerate inhospitable soil, salt sprays, and other pollutants from expressways. Most promising thus far are several salt-resistant Asian elms.

Seeking Foster Parents

Randy is a battered child. Apparently his mother and father have punished him for their frustrations with each other. His father is an alcoholic who often goes into a rage. Once he broke Randy's right arm. He is also a lottery fanatic, spending large amounts of the family's uncertain income on lottery tickets.

Unable to accept the father's behavior, Randy's mother has gone home to her mother several times in the past three years, leaving Randy behind twice. She has tried to protect Randy against his father's tirades, but has been inconsistent and impetuous herself.

Randy, now eight years old, has survived the situation, but with some damage. Several permanent teeth are gone; there is a scar on his scalp where hair doesn't grow; and he is small and thin for his age. He finds it hard to look an adult in the eye. He fidgets nervously and appears not to listen when adults speak to him.

At school, Randy does poorly. He understands what is expected of him, but his nervous manner prevents him from concentrating for more than a few seconds at a time.

Like most boys his age, Randy is incurably curious. He picks up and examines everything within his reach—even without permission. Deprived as he has been, he longs for things he can call his own.

Randy needs a foster family who will love and respect him. He would like very much to live in a home where he would not have to withdraw or be afraid.

The Dept. of Children and Family Services provides a monthly board payment to help foster parents meet the expenses of caring for a youngster. Medical, dental and other special expenses are also paid by the state.

Anyone interested in foster care may call Lue Berda Bell, resource development specialist, Dept. of Children and Family Services, at (312) 662-5061.

Tender Secrets Are Out Of The Bag

In a land not so long ago you could measure food prices by simply counting the filled shopping bags and dividing the bill by the number of sacks.

The 1970s were mostly good years. You could count on about $20 worth of groceries in each brown paper bag. Then came the '80s and the average dropped dramatically—closer to $10 per bag.

To complicate matters, the supermarkets began to throw a gremlin into the calculations—it wore plastic.

Today, the small plastic bag is becoming a giant in the supermarket place. The big paper bag, meanwhile, is getting the sack.

The reason: purely monetary.

"The brown bag runs two for five cents," explained a manager of one store. "The plastic bags are cheap—about four for five cents."

Sure, the stores keep around paper bags to honor requests, but their days are numbered. And just when the average cost of groceries was edging up toward $15 per bag.

The trouble with the plastic bag is: Each only holds three or four five items.

You must make twice as many trips from car to kitchen.

The good things about plastic: It accommodates wet items nicely.

The handles allow you to tote three or four bags at a time.

Yes, the reviews on plastic are mixed. "People like them," says a store cashier.

"They are stronger and easier to carry. I like paper myself."

Says the woman watching her groceries go into both types of bags: "I like the plastic because it's easier to take to the house. My husband likes the brown bags for garbage."

Quite a few women use the plastic bags in those small wastebaskets scattered around the house.

A bag closer to a cook's heart keeps meat as well as poultry moist. Oven cooking bags allow beef roasts, chicken and pork chops to come out tender and juicy.

Foil also makes an excellent impromptu bag, whether it goes in the oven or on the grill.

No where does the cooking bag come into play more than in the microwave oven.

You can fill them with less tender cuts of beef roasts, pork roasts, hams, chicken and turkey.

But, in the microwave, you must: Lightly oil the inside of the bag for poultry.

Secure the bag with a plastic strip cut from the open end.

Pierce or slash the bag to let steam escape.

Pilot Light GREG MELIKOV

Your bag of tricks can be numerous.

Bagged Beef Roast

1 tablespoon all-purpose flour
5-pound beef roast
salt and black pepper to taste
1 large onion, sliced
3 celery ribs, sliced
5 medium potatoes, halved
5 carrots, cut up

Shake flour in cooking bag to coat insides. Season roast with salt and pepper, place in bag with rest of ingredients, secure, make a half-dozen 1/2-inch slits on top and put bag in baking dish or pan large enough to contain it when puffed up. Cook about 2 1/2 hours in preheated 325-degree oven. Serves 5, with meat left over for sandwiches or hash.

Easy Microwaved Chicken

3 1/2 pound chicken melted butter or vegetable oil
1/4 cup water or white wine

Brush chicken with butter or oil, rub a little oil inside cooking bag, shield wing tips and leg ends with foil, place chicken breast down in bag, add liquid and secure. Microwave at 70 percent power for half cooking time, remove shields, turn breast up, make small slash in bag and cook until desired doneness. Brown in conventional oven. Serves 4.

Many Species Of Mammals Have Become Extinct

by CHARLENE WHITNEY

By 1850 about thirty-five species of mammals had vanished. We are now at a rate of one mammal species disappearing every year. Still, man has not come to truly realize that his own survival depends upon the well being of the rest of nature's world. Each mammal forms a vital part in this balance.

It is up to each and every one of us to follow these rules if we are to save ourselves. As conservationist, we should:

1. Preserve the habitat of mammal species and never disrupt it without undertaking conservation measures.

2. Maintain an adequate breeding stock, especially of those which we hunt or exploit in other ways.

3. See to it that no mammal is killed or persecuted without a very good reason.

All mammals need food, water, and a place to live. Loss of habitat is one way that species die. The wild places of the world are disappearing because man is using it up. They can also lose a habitat due to overgrazing by domestic animals.

The beautiful animals are disappearing because of the demands of the fur trade. This is not really for warmth, but because of the fashion purposes. The animals will be trapped, shot or poisoned so their fur can be taken. High prices will attract poachers and unlawful traders. The beautiful cats, beavers, seals, chinchilla, monkeys and others are in danger of being fashionable.

At some time or another most any species of animal has been eaten somewhere in the world. Being there is a human population explosion, the increase of food is needed. The hoofed animals form the main source of food. Still, there is destructive hunting by man. With improved firearms, man seeks big game for the trophy of a rarer animal or some splendid thing about an animal.

The exploitation of mammal species for profit has had the most disastrous results. The whale is still hunted in spite of international agreements. It is impossible to enforce the protective laws. All that is used from the whale can be replaced by alternative sources. Seals and the walrus are also endangered from this kind of hunting for profit.

Man has also deliberately destroyed animals to change his environment. One example is killing deer to keep them out of crops.

Another thing that man has done is bring in other species to a different area. This can have a disturbing and even disastrous effect. This is because the relationship between species occupying the same territory is a matter of very delicate balance.

Then, there is the use of animals for medical research. There are thousands of animals bought every year by medical research institutions.

There are some parts of the world where animals are killed because of superstition.

Pollution is a menace for animals. Man has polluted his own habitat. These threats to life of all kinds are increased as the human population grows.

There are many species that are disappearing as the sad consequences of the pet trade. It is very common for man to want a pet which is exotic or unusual. Many die on the way to the pet shops and more die from owners that don't know how to care for them. They can only live best in the wild, where they belong.

There are also animals that are victims of man's wars.

In the zoos, there will be a collection of many species of animals. However, there are few zoos that do and can get them to breed and raise the young.

So, for all these reasons, we will see many species of mammals disappear before our eyes. Our world may become unbalanced in a few years and man will be in big trouble. This could happen unless we all open our eyes and decide to do what we can to save the animals, to save our very own world and the world our children will need after us.

Placement Services Increasing

The CLC Placement Employment Report reports a 59 percent increase in job listings over last year, according to the Placement/Cooperative Education Office at the College of Lake County. the 1985-86 school year

Over 27,200 jobs were listed with the Placement Office during the previous year. The number served by the Placement Office during compared with 16,100 jobs listed during the previous year. The number served by the Placement Office jumped to 3,341 from 3,106.

Offer Support

Responding to the needs of the women of Lake County, the YWCA is offering an ongoing Divorce Support Group. The purpose of the group is to provide an opportunity for women to share feelings with others involved in the same experience. Economy Looks Strong Throughout Next Year

by GARY S. MEYERS
AND ROBERT E. STENBECK

Things look good for U.S. consumers for the balance of 1986 and well into 1987. Interest rates should continue to fall. Federal Reserve Chairman Paul Volcker, hoping to stimulate the U.S. economy and the economies of the world's debtor nations, is continuing his attempts to cajole our trading partners into reducing their interest rates.

The Meyers Report

Economic forecaster Gary S. Meyers has been a lecturer and consultant to major financial institutions government analysts, real estate developers and daily newspapers throughout the nation for the past 16 years. Readers are invited to submit comments and questions for possible use as subjects for future columns. Write Gary S. Meyers & Associates, Ltd., 20 W. Hubbard, Chicago, IL 60610.

In review. Consumers are driving the U.S. economy.

—Personal consumption expenditures are up 6.5 percent from last year and up by 1.1 percent from last month.

—Retail sales. Major retailers have benefited from increased consumer expenditures. August retail sales are up 3.4 percent from August 1985 and are up by 0.8 percent from July of this year.

—Auto sales in early September soared by 36.9 percent over those in September 1985. The record low financing rates offered by major auto makers have attracted many new buyers. But the effects of the low rates has not fully been felt.

Income is rising, but prices are stable... Over the past 12 months, the average American has seen his income rise more than four times faster than the prices of his goods and services (inflation).

—The consumer price index (CPI). Inflation is running at its lowest level since 1955. Over the last 12 months the CPI has risen 1.58 percent, and only 0.67 percent over the last six months.

In August the total CPI rose 0.2 percent, due to increases in the price of food (up 0.9 percent), which outpaced a one month decline in the cost of energy (minus 1.9 percent). Food prices have risen in part because of the drought in the Southeast and increases in the amount of food that we import.

—August producer price index (PPI). Since last year, the producer prices have fallen by 2 percent. Since July the PPI rose a scant 0.1 percent, largely due to oil prices, which are showing a minimal rebound after the summer of '85, when oil sank to its lowest levels since the early 1970s.

—Personal income. Personal income is up 6.4 percent from this time last year and up 0.4 percent from last month, great news for the consumer.

—Employment. Since December of 1985, 3.3 million more people are employed. And, the unemployment rate has fallen to 6.8 percent for the first time in six years.

But, are there problems...? —Durable goods. In August orders from American manufacturers were down by 2.6 percent. The large drop was due mainly to a decrease in defense orders, which are erratic from month to month.

Excluding the defense category, orders for durable goods declined by 0.3 percent in August after rising 0.6 percent in July. The silver lining is that orders for household durables increased by 1.7 percent in August.

Treasury yields declined this week as short-term inflation fears receded. The 20-year bond rose only because it is a scarce commodity.

Savings: The interest rate slide came to a halt this week, as inflation fears pushed long-term rates up slightly. However, considering the Commerce Dept.'s CPI report, these fears appear to be unfounded. Interest rates will begin to decline again before year-end.

The average on six-month CDs showed only a small decline to 5.73 percent, as 17 percent of institutions reduced rates and 19 percent increased rates.

On 30-month certificates, rates were up slightly as 21 percent of the institutions increased rates and 10 percent decreased rates.

On 5-year certificates, 21 percent of the institutions increased rates and 11 percent showed lower rates.

Loans: The U.S. average for a 30-year fixed-rate mortgage nudged upward to 10.13 percent. Of the lenders polled, 33 percent increased rates and 10 percent decreased rates. Adjustable mortgages now average 8.42 percent.

Across the country, 48-month new auto loans average 11.32 percent. Of the lenders surveyed, 9 percent decreased rates and 1 percent raised rates.

ON PEAK ALERT DAYS, IT PAYS TO USE LESS.

On Peak Alert days the extra-high demand for electricity tests our ability to provide all the power you need.

If we announce a Peak Alert, it means our thrifty coal and nuclear generators can't do the job alone. We have to use less efficient generators, too. And all of us pay that extra expense on our electric bills.

You can lower your energy bills this summer.

Every summer day, and especially when we've issued a Peak Alert, adopt some of these energy-saving, money-saving habits:

If you stay indoors:

- Set your air conditioner at 78° or higher.
- Keep your curtains closed so the sun's hot rays will stay outside.
- Wash your clothes and run your dishwasher on a cool day.
- Use all large appliances before 9 AM or after 10 PM.
- Open your refrigerator only when necessary.

Switch to outdoor activities:

- Head to the beach or find a refreshing pool.
- Dry your clothes outdoors.
- Cook on charcoal instead of the stove. Or don't cook at all—try a light sandwich or salads.

Ask for our free Waste Watcher's Guide:

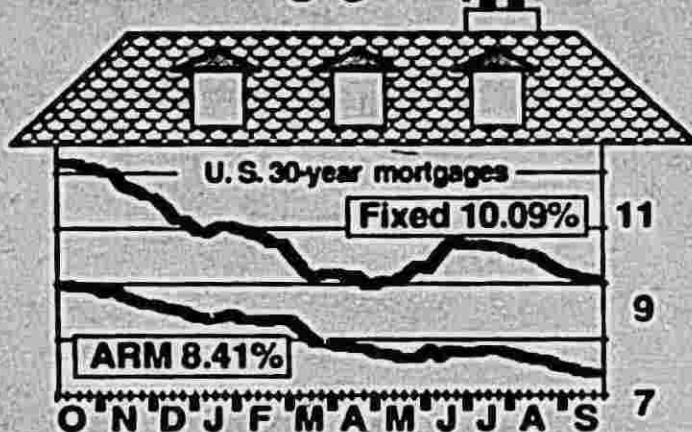

It lists 101 things you can do to save energy every day. For your copy, write: Energy Information, P.O. Box 767, Chicago, IL 60690. And in the meantime, remember that when there's a Peak Alert, it pays to use less.

The Mortgage Report

The national average on 30-year fixed-rate mortgages rose slightly to 10.09 percent from last week's 10.08 percent. Adjustable mortgages also increased slightly, now up to 8.41 percent from 8.40 percent last week.

In Chicago, 30-year fixed-rate mortgages rose to 10.09 percent from last week's 10.03 percent. Adjustable mortgages fell to 7.95 percent, down from 7.97 percent.

How To Shop For A Health Club And Avoid A Ripoff

by GARY S. MEYERS

Motivated by sensuous ads featuring leggy, leotard-clad Hollywood stars and reports that moderate exercise can lead to longer life, Americans have gone health club crazy.

Millions of fitness-conscious Americans are buying memberships to convenient and well-equipped exercise havens.

Unfortunately, unscrupulous health-club operators are jumping on the fitness bandwagon and are trimming cash from unknowing consumers in the name of weight loss and fitness.

Consumer advocates told The Meyers Report that some health clubs do not have the facilities promised in the advertisements. Others sign up too many people, making for overcrowded facilities. Still others accept prepaid memberships and then never open their doors.

"Too often members are lured in by a free one-week membership and are pressured into signing a three-year contract," said James Baumhart, vice president of the Better Business Bureau of Chicago. "Dues usually are non-refundable and the membership can't be cancelled even if you get sick or move away."

Before you pay out hundreds or thousands of dollars for a membership, keep in mind that health clubs survive on a law of diminishing returns. This means that most of the ambitious people who join never fully utilize their memberships.

Health clubs usually sell more memberships than they can handle at any one time because many people don't take full advantage of what they paid for. It's not uncommon for a club with thousands of members to only have a few hundred lockers.

Consumer advocates give the following tips to would-be health club members:

—Shop for a convenient club. Your enthusiasm for exercise will wane quickly if you have to drive many miles at odd hours.

—Check the spa's track record. Health clubs open and close almost as fast as promises to diet are made and broken. Ask how long the club has been in business. Check the facility out with the Better Business Bureau and the state consumer protection agency for outstanding complaints.

—Ask about a trial period. First, take a tour of the club. Then ask if you can have a guest visit or two without paying for a full membership. Try to attend exercise classes before signing up and see how crowded the club is at the times you plan to use it.

—Check out the condition of the workout equipment, and talk to other club members and ask if they are satisfied. Don't sign up until you check out several spas.

—Ask about membership quotas. Many spa members who join when a club is new regret it later when the facilities get crowded. It is frustrating to wait in a long line to use an exercise bike, and it's awkward to dress in an over-crowded locker room. Ask if there are limits to the number of people that can be signed up.

—Ask about refunds. Can you get part of your money back if you get sick, move away or lose interest in the spa? Many health clubs have refund rules that are designed to gouge consumers. Often refunds are not allowed under any circumstance.

"Existing refund policies create counter-incentives which encourage the health club industry to advertise falsely, to recruit at random, to screen minimally, and to make slight effort to satisfy the consumer regarding the promised service," says a recent Federal Trade Commission report.

Also find out what your refund rights are if the spa goes out of business. Under some contracts consumers have been forced to pay membership fees to finance companies after their club is padlocked, the Better Business Bureau reports.

—Ask about membership terms. If a month-to-month contract is offered, try it first before putting down the big bucks needed for a long-term membership. Although it may be more expensive, a month-to-month membership is more flexible and may save you money if you lose interest in the club before your membership ends.

—Beware of high-pressure tactics. Ask for a copy of your contract and take it home and study it before you sign. Be sure all the promises made to you by salespeople are in writing in your contract. Details on the club's various services, facilities and equipment also should be spelled out.

"Most states require that there be a three day 'cooling off' period to allow you to think about the deal, during which you can cancel the contract for no reason," said Baumhart.

There is no federal law to protect consumers against fitness center ripoffs. However, some states, such as Connecticut, have health club funds designed to reimburse consumer who lost money because a club closed.

In Maryland, health club operators are required to post a $50,000 bond to pay back members if the club goes out of business. Contact your state attorney general's office about the law in your area.

Victory By The Numbers, Last Of A Series

by JOHN STEINKE
Political Columnist

Last week, we evaluated Democratic County Clerk Linda Hess' electoral prospects in Avon, Benton, Deerfield and Waukegan Twp. This column will analyze Hess' chances in another four townships.

1. Zion Twp. is the land of political mediocrity with the likes of Republican Jim LaBelle and Democrat Sam Payne. Collectively, they have a political IQ of 70. When Sam Payne leaves the room, it drops to 69.

The influx of blacks and white southerners from Red Bay, Ala., and Tupelo, Miss., has transformed Zion into a politically competitive community. In 1982 Linda Hess received 55.2 percent of the vote. However, Zion Republicans will be motivated to organize an "I Love A Parade" campaign for State Sen. Adeleine Geo-Karis, who is running for comptroller. The Greek Goddess' campaign will probably increase the GOP vote to the detriment of Hess' candidacy.

2. Wauconda Twp. Historically, this township is the place where old Republicans came to die. It is also the home of the most qualified candidate ever to seek the county clerk's office: Wauconda Village Clerk Venita L. McConnel. The Babcox Machine candidate, "Mickey-Mae" Litwiler, defeated McConnel in the GOP primary last March. Will McConnel Republicans recall the vicious campaign waged against this gracious lady by the Litwiler forces? Will Venita's supporters cast their votes for Democratic incumbent Linda Hess in the solitude of the voting booth? McConnel Republicans could make Linda Hess competitive in this traditionally GOP township.

3. Warren Twp. Supervisor Robert Depke has been the political kingpin of the township for the past 25 years. His son, Shawn, is the chairman of the Warren Twp.

Republican precinct organization. If Donna-Mae Litwiler is elected county clerk, Shawn Depke will be appointed as her principal deputy. Shawn Depke has the kind of personality that would make a killer out of Gandhi. He will goose-step around the county clerk's office, shouting incoherent orders to the staff and patrons alike. How many Warren Twp. residents would like to deal with "Little Adolph" Depke? The man will finish his political career in a bunker. In 1982, Democratic incumbent Linda Hess captured only 45 percent of the Warren Twp. vote. Since her election, she has established residency in Heather Ridge. Will Hess be able to capitalize upon her favorite daughter status in the fall election? Hess needs a 50-50 split in Warren Twp. to serve a second term.

4. Lake Villa Twp. The township is in political chaos over issues like annexation, open space, fire protection, economic growth and the historic animosity between Lindenhurst and Lake Villa. Highway Commissioner "Crazy Jim" Semmerling is a candidate for the rubber room. He is on a power trip to become God of the township. The Lake Villa Twp. Democratic organization consists of Karen Rydberg and Chris Volodka. They caucus in a telephone booth. The local Republican party is led by Glen Moore, who has all the charisma of Pa Kettle on Valium. Under his inept leadership, the GOP is known as F Troop. The only responsible public official is Lindenhurst Mayor Bob Ratch. In 1982, Democratic incumbent Linda Hess garnered 50.7 percent of the Lake Villa Twp. vote. She will need a 50-50 division to win reelection.

BUYING A HOME SATELLITE DISH IS COSTLIER THAN YOU THINK.

Before you spend your hard earned money on a satellite receive dish you should learn the facts.

This year popular premium services like HBO and Cinemax will begin scrambling their signals with highly sophisticated electronic encryption devices.

And this new technique won't be limited to just premium services. Many basic cable channels like ESPN, MTV and CNN have announced their intentions to scramble signals.

What does this mean for satellite dish owners?

In addition to paying several thousand dollars for the purchase and installation of a receive dish, it will be necessary to spend hundreds of dollars on descrambling equipment plus pay monthly service fees for each channel received.

Make your decision based on the facts.

Mustang Spikers Set New Goals For Season

by STEVE PETERSON

Mundelein high school volleyball coach Shari Oliver may be in for a pleasant surprise.

Her volleyball charges, expected to finish in the middle of the North Suburban Conference pack, are now thinking conference championship and beyond.

"I knew we had to potential but now I'm even more pleased. I've changed my expectations. I had expected a third or fourth-place finish but now we're shooting for first," Oliver said.

To win the title, however, the Mustangs must upend conference leader Libertyville. Mundelein hosts the Wildcats Oct. 8 in a 5 p.m. match. Before the showdown, the Mustangs play at Lake Forest Oct. 3.

"We came in very inexperienced but we've learned to play together well," Oliver said.

Mundelein won nine of its first 13 matches and three of four in the NSC.

That theme was showed when the Mustangs beat a Schaumburg squad in three games. In game one, MHS fell behind 9-0 before coming back to win 15-11. After Schaumburg's Saxons won the second game 15-6, Mundelein took the third and deciding game 15-8.

Against Schaumburg, Rachel Lackie was a force up front. The junior was 29 for 30 in spiking and had 20 kills. Defensively, she was 28 for 29 in blocking attempts and four kill blocks.

"She played her very best game of the year," Oliver said of Lackie.

In serving, Denise Galitz was 23 of 24 for 18 points with five aces. Karin Hansen a senior, was 11 for 12 with seven points and one ace.

The match against Libertyville could be a preview of the regional championship. Mundelein is assigned to the Libertyville regional along with Carmel and North Chicago.

Carmel Still Seeking Offense In League Play

Carmel's defense continues to be the bright spot for the Corsairs in the East Suburban Catholic Conference wars.

The defense, which has surrendered just 13 points in two league games, will be facing an explosive Marist offense in a home game Oct. 3.

The game is set for 8 p.m. Marist is coming off a 21-0 shutout of Holy Cross while Carmel lost another tough league battle to St. Patrick 10-3 last week.

While the defense has played strong for two games, one play did them in against St. Patrick.

St. Patrick quarterback Ed Thomas raced 81 yards in the third quarter. The extra point gave the hosts a 7-0 lead.

Both teams added field goals in the final period. Art

Bustamante continued his strong season with a 36 yard boot.

St. Patrick's Steve Carpinelli kicked a field goal to give the Shamrocks some breathing room.

Carmel had its chances in the late going. However, the St. Patrick defense proved to be too tough for Carmel's offense.

The second ESCC loss dropped Carmel to 2-2 overall, 0-2 in league play.

Runners Enjoy Start

Round Lake's rookie cross country coach Frank White is finding his newest coaching assignment pleasurable.

And why not.

With two wins in three Northwest Suburban Conference meets and strong showings in three invitational already on the Panthers' resume, White is looking towards loft post-season goals.

"Things have been going real well," White said.

The Panthers thus far have: finished eighth out of 23 teams at the Niles Invitational; second at the Wauconda Invitational and fourth at the Warren Invitational.

Leading the way for the Panthers is senior transfer student Bill Thomas from Holy Cross.

But this Round Lake team is a lot more than a one-man show.

Antioch, Mundelein Aim For Respect In NSC Contest

Mundelein and Antioch's football teams will be searching for two things which naturally go together in successful teams.

Offense and winning.

One almost always begs another and is a big reason why the Mundelein-Antioch winner will come away with at least a little respectability and momentum heading into the second half of the season.

The Oct. 4 game, Mundelein's Homecoming, is

Game Of The Week

Lakeland Newspapers' Game Of The Week.

"This will be an important game. It'll be a playoff game for both of us," Mundelein coach Gary Heifner said.

Heifner was referring to both team's need for a victory. With both records at 1-3, post-season action is beginning to become a dream.

Mundelein is coming off a 22-8 loss to Niles North while Antioch lost 15-0 to Zion-Benton.

Both teams started well last week. Antioch trailed just 2-0 at halftime after taking a safety and Mundelein led 8-0 before Niles North tied the game late in the second quarter.

"We did a real fine job in the first half and we had control of the game. But they scored with 40 seconds left before half. What totally irritated me was they ran an illegal pick on the pass and they called us for holding," Heifner said.

For Antioch coach Steve Wapon, the game will be another opportunity to bounce back from a subpar performance.

"We're going to have to cut down on our errors and gain confidence before we play Mundelein," Wapon said.

Mundelein quarterback Jim Frank started the scoring with a two yard run in the second quarter. John McNulty scored the two-point conversion for an 8-0 Mustang lead.

Niles North scored two touchdowns in the third quarter to build the 17-point lead.

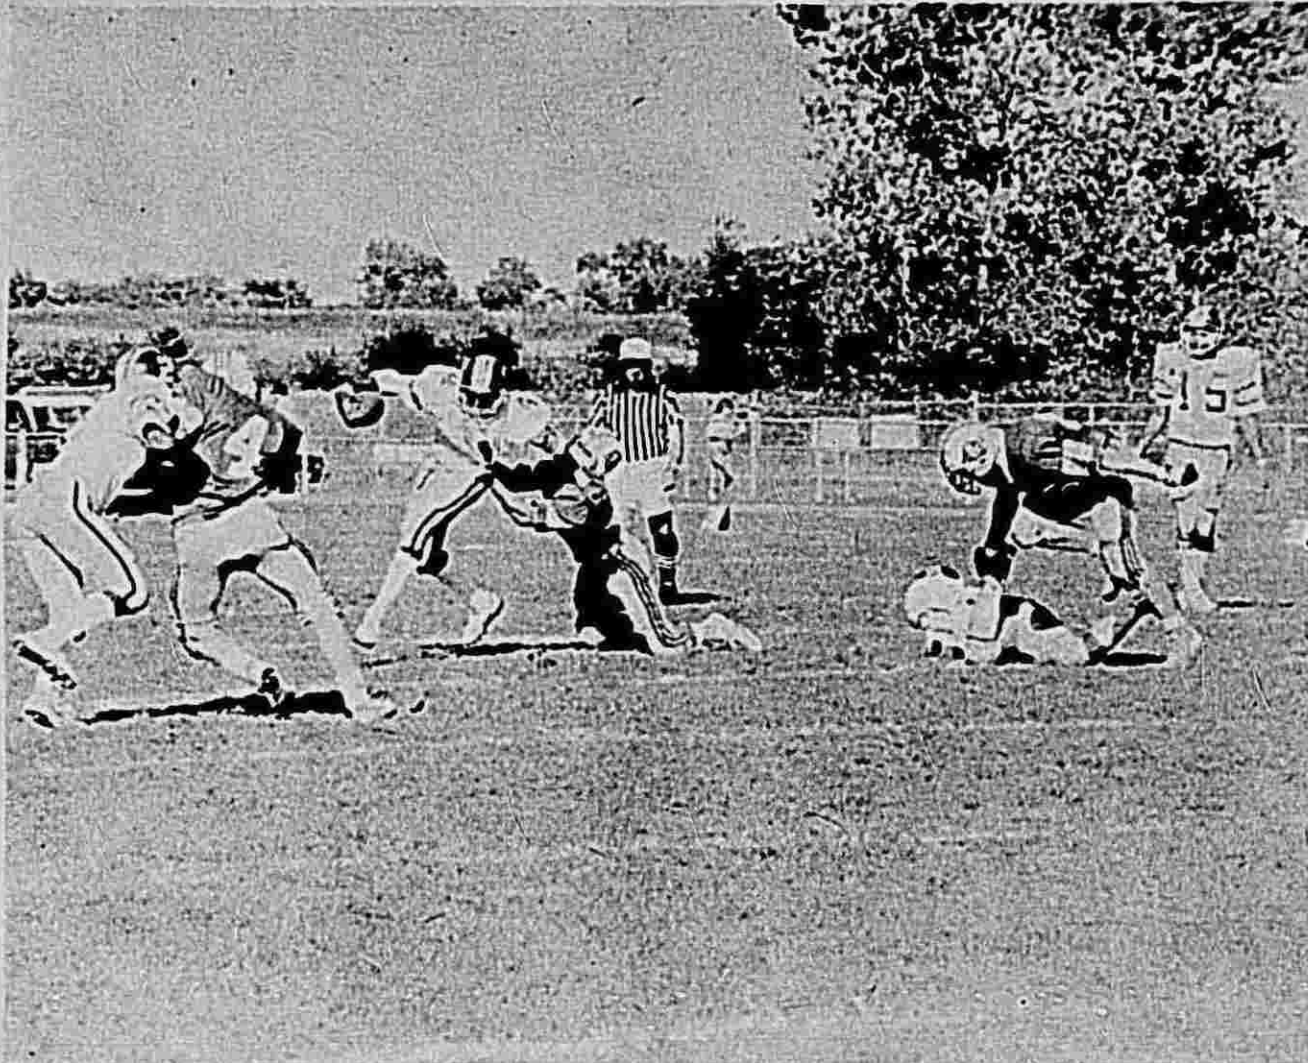

Like Wapon, Heifner

believes a key to the game will be to cut errors to a minimum.

Antioch gave Zion a big break when the Sequoits fumbled the ball at their own two yard line in the third quarter. The ZeeBees immediately capitalized, scoring a touchdown for a 9-0 lead.

"We beat ourselves," Wapon said.

Antioch quarterback Jim Keim, a sophomore and junior Chris Polark were a combined five-for-15 for 75 yards.

CLC Golfers Fourth, Spikers Keep Winning

by JOHN PHELPS

The College of Lake County mens golf team hosted their annual Lake County Invitational Golf Tournament, held at Countryside Golf Course in Mundelein.

In a field of nine teams, the Lancers finished in fourth place, 14 strokes behind tournament winner Blackhawk. CLC fired a four-man score of 323, while Blackhawk tallied 309. John Logan finished second with 313, and conference rival Oakton was third with 318.

"This week was disappointing in a way. We just haven't developed any consistency as a team so far," commented Lancer Head Coach Ralph Cianchetti.

In the tournament, Lancer Matt Gillogly fired a 78, good for a ninth place flag, while Larry Dillow followed with a 79, good for 12th place. Other Lancers' scores read as follows: Joe Pollack, 82, Henry Slobe, 84, and John Phelps, 85.

Earlier in the week, Lake County hosted the third of six Skyway Conference meets, only to finish third in the field of six teams. In the rain-shortened match (through 15 holes), Oakton finished first, while Elgin College was second.

Individuals figuring in the scoring for CLC were Joe Pollack 66, Matt Gillogly 67, John Phelps 68, and Larry Dillow 70. "We are going to have to play some excellent golf from this point on if we are going to compete for the Skyway Conference Championship," noted Cianchetti.

The point totals in the conference to date read as follows: Oakton 14, Elgin 11, and CLC 10. Each team receives a point in each conference meet for every team they defeat.

This season, the College of Lake County womens volleyball team has been nothing but flawless.

The Lancers started the week Tuesday with a thrilling victory over visiting Triton. The Lancers dropped the first game 15-10, won the second 15-11, lost the third 15-9, and proceeded to storm back and win the final two games, 15-8 and 15-13.

"We played pretty good. We were down and just kept fighting back the entire evening, and as a result came up with a good win," commented Lancer Coach Laura Philipp.

Key players in the victory included Rita Dorich and JoAnne Hangebrauk on points served, and making several nice saves were Kelly Hansen and Lynn Arvidson.

CLC proved to be no match for their host conference opponent, Wright. Lake County was swept three games by scores of 15-4, 15-5 and 15-8.

As Lancer Co-Captain JoAnne Hangebrauk noted, "We didn't play that well Thursday, but I think with the determination this team has, I feel even if we have these bad days, a win is always in the making for us.

I think we can win the conference by going undefeated, and furthermore, perform extremely well in post-season."

CLC moved to 6-1, 1-0 on the year.

Teams Busy

Grayslake Community High School's sports teams all will be seeing action this week.

Volleyball hosts Marian Central Oct. 2 before traveling to Round Lake Oct. 7.

In girls tennis, the Rams host Antioch Oct. 6.

Cross country faces Grant at home Oct. 2.

Devils Face Weather Woes In Preparation For ZeeBees

This was not your average practice week for the Warren Twp. High School football team.

"We have one 50 x 60 foot area for three teams to practice on," Warren coach Reggie Hughes said.

The week of rain that brought Gurnee to a standstill affected the way the Blue Devils are approaching the Oct. 4 game at Zion-Benton.

"The weather will be more of a factor this week than last week because it will be interesting to see how the kids respond," Hughes said.

Warren saw its record slip to 1-3 in the North Suburban Conference when it lost a narrow 10-6 decision to league leader Lake Forest. The game had to be moved to Lake Forest and played a day later than scheduled because of flood waters in Gurnee.

Against Lake Forest, the Blue Devils played the Scouts on an almost-even basis for three quarters. Lake Forest held a slim 3-0 lead after three.

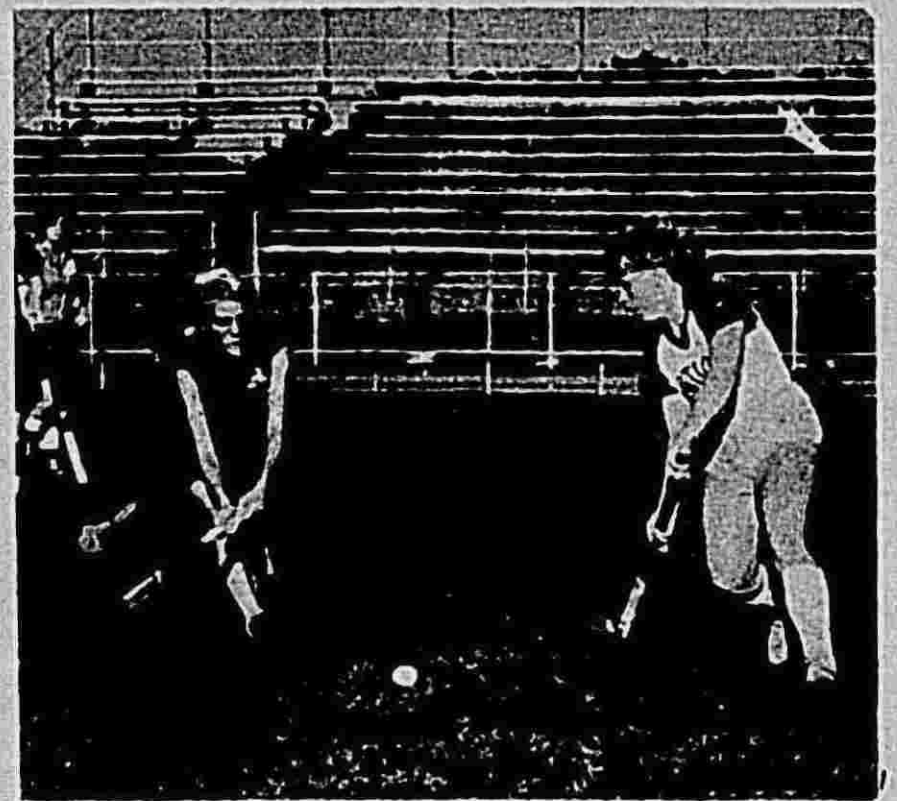

Lake Forest scored early in the fourth quarter, but Warren came back on a 13-yard touchdown run by Leon Darby that made it 10-6.

Warren could not capitalize on its final drive of the afternoon, misfiring on seven straight fourth quarter plays.

Warren's offense chalked up 282 yards while Lake Forest had 145.

The Blue Devils had a potent ground attack. Darby had 59 yards, Brian Lochman 53 and Mike Wagner 52.

Johnsburg, Round Lake Face Key League Battle

by STEVE PETERSON
For the winner of the Oct. 4 Johnsburg-Round Lake football game, a 3-0 league record will bring cries of "we're No. 1" and have the victorious coach talking in terms of state playoff possibilities.

For the loser, the season certainly will not be over. There will be a 2-1 Northwest Suburban League record but with a non-conference loss added to the ledger, prospects for post-season play will be taking a turn for the worse.

The matchup at Round Lake at 7 p.m. because of a schedule change, features two teams on the upswing. Round Lake bounced back from a trouncing at the hands of Grant to edge Marengo 9-6 while Johnsburg, recovering from two non-conference defeats, won its second straight league game of the season, beating Grayslake 14-0.

"I dreamed about being 4-0 and wanted to be 3-1 but after an 0-2 start, things were getting down. Now it's looking very up" Johnsburg coach Mike Roberts said.

Both teams' defenses stood out in last week's conference victories.

For Round Lake, the best example of the defense came at the end of the first half. Trailing 9-0, Marengo had the ball at the Round Lake one on fourth down. The host Indians tried for a touchdown, but were stopped by the Panthers.

For Johnsburg, the defensive performance at Grayslake was of record-breaking levels. The Rams were 0-for-10 passing and threw two interceptions in the game. Also, 11 tackles for losses meant the hosts gained just 33 yards in total offense according to Johnsburg statistics.

"I had to keep adding them up because I could not believe them at first. The record for passing may be tied, but I don't think there will ever be a game when we can hold someone to 33 yards," Roberts said.

Offensively, the biggest factor could be the status of Round Lake's Chuck Banker. Banker was injured on the second play of the game against Marengo. Round Lake coach Mike Dunn listed Banker, a senior running back, as doubtful.

Round Lake got on the board early against Marengo.

Damon Horn topped an 80-yard march at the start of the game with a 21 yard field goal for a 3-0 Round Lake lead with 5:44 left in the first quarter.

Marengo fumbled two plays later and Round Lake got the ball at the Marengo 40.

It took just four plays for Round Lake to score the game's only touchdown. Quarterback Walter Tesch hit Robert Akers on a 26-yard pass. Akers had to outbottle two Marengo players for control of the ball.

Akers later picked off a Marengo pass for an interception. Round Lake recovered two more fumbles by Marengo in the second half, but both times the offense bogged down.

Marengo made it close when quarterback Kevin Shelton tossed a 10-yarder to David Waeghe in the final minute of the contest.

"We're going to have to control the ball against Johnsburg better than we did against Marengo. We could have blown Marengo out of the park but we let them get back in the game," Dunn said.

Round Lake will have to try and put the clamps on Johnsburg quarterback Frank Husak. Husak was six for 14 for 95 yards but Roberts said he very easily could have been 10 for 14.

"He had four dropped passes and they were catchable passes. He could have easily thrown for 1 more than 100 yards," Roberts said.

Husak scored Johnsburg's first touchdown on a two-yard run with Skyhawks' first possession.

Johnsburg, starting at its own 26, moved the ball 74 yards before scoring. Big plays included a 35-yard run by Charlie Giovanni, a 14-yarder by Giovanni and a 10-yard pickup by Pete Pegast.

Husak, in addition to his passing ability, earned plaudits from Roberts for his play calling ability.

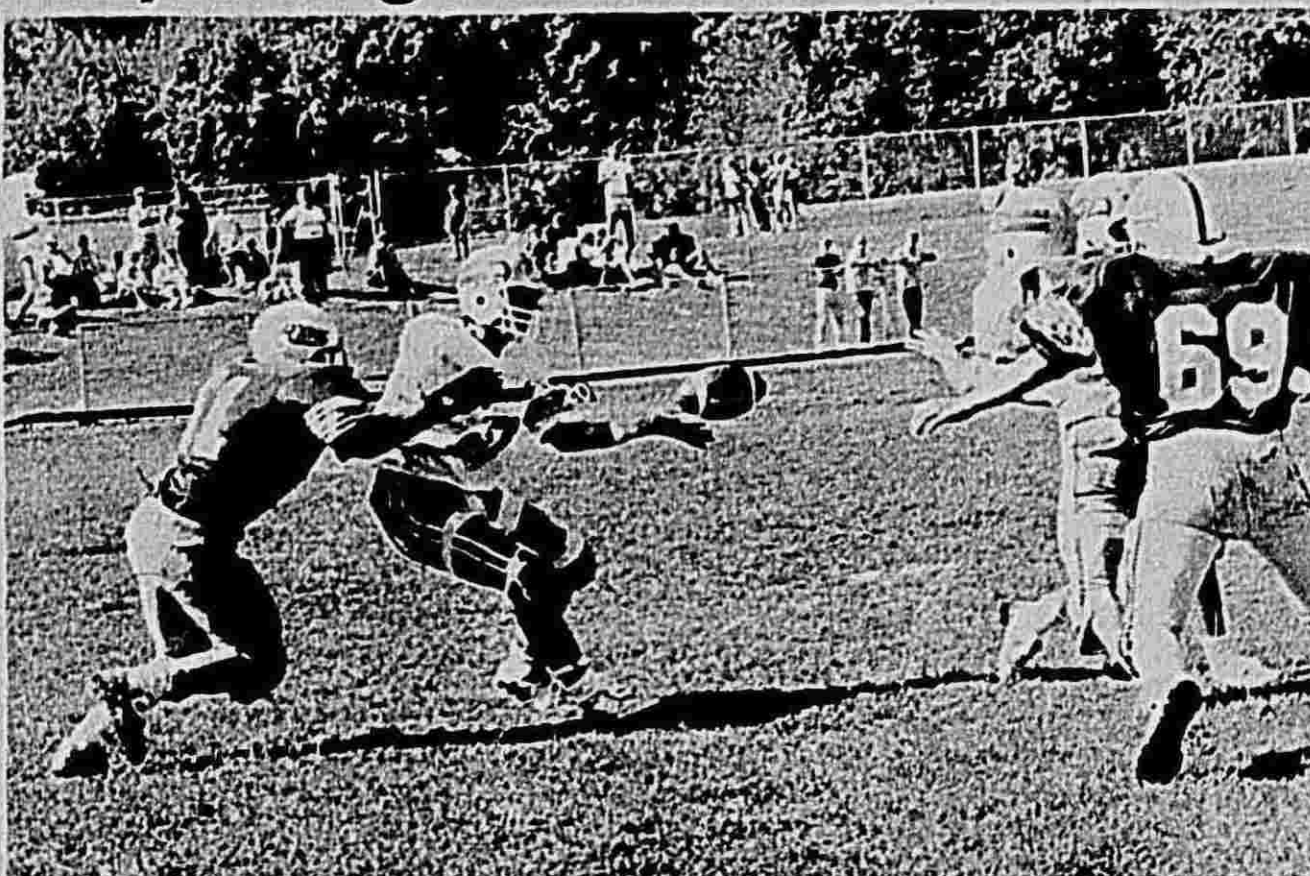

"Frank called a lot of audibles today. He has grown a lot and we're letting him do different things and it showed," Roberts said.

Jeff Heumann started the second half for Johnsburg when he returned the kickoff to the Grayslake 41.

After Heumann recovered his own fumble on the next play, it took Johnsburg 10 plays before Eric Mellum scored from a yard out. That made it 14-0 with 7:30 left in the second half.

Roberts admitted his offense could have put more points on the board.

"Part of that's my fault. I started to get cute with the calls when I should have kept it on the ground," he said.

Rams, Wauconda Shoot For First League Win

Two equally struggling football teams meet Oct. 4 when Wauconda travels to Grayslake.

The game features two teams with a combined 1-7 overall record through four games. Both the Bulldogs and the Rams have shown flashes of competitiveness this fall but have not been able to put together a complete game against Northwest Suburban Conference opponents.

"We're approaching this one the same way we would approach playing Grant. We need to cut down our mistakes and play with more consistency," Grayslake coach Harold Jahnke said.

Both teams are coming into the 1 p.m. kickoff off conference losses. Grayslake lost its fourth straight, second in conference play, to Johnsburg 14-0 while Wauconda was getting whipped by Grant 42-0.

"We really did not play that bad but they capitalized on our fumbles. They got three touchdowns set up by our own offense and two interceptions and a fumble," Wauconda coach Fred Loffredo said.

At least Wauconda, now 1-3 overall, can take some consolation in that they are not the first team to have an offense stalled at the expense of the Grant defense. The Bulldogs from Fox Lake have registered four straight shutouts.

For Grayslake's forces to do the same, Jahnke said the Rams will have to stop Wauconda's passing attack.

"They throw the ball a lot and if we put pressure on their passer, we should do alright," Jahnke said.

Grayslake will have to find a passing attack of its own, though. Last week against Johnsburg, quarterback Mike Langer did not complete a pass. Also, the Skyhawks set a school record by holding Grayslake to 33 yards in offense and recording 11 tackles for losses.

"We're so inconsistent, we can't afford a penalty on any play," Jahnke said.

Grant, coming off the trouncing of Wauconda, are home against Lake Zurich Oct. 4. Like Grayslake and Wauconda, the Bears have yet to win a conference game.

Grant's quarterback, Garry Glauser, scored on a 55-yard interception return in the second quarter. Kevin Frystak had three touchdown runs of 15, three and 36 yards.

In addition to Glauser, Mike Kazlauskys returned an interception for a TD.

In other NWSC games, Marengo is at Marian Central Oct. 3. A game Oct. 4 pit Johnsburg at Round Lake in a contest which was switched from the original schedule.

Two homes have their living area under water and 20 others have flooded lower levels and yards. Carmel Lauds Merit Scholars

Carmel High School, Mundelein, has been notified by National Merit Scholarship Corp. (NMSC) of Evanston that five students have been designated Commended Students in the 1987 National Merit Scholarship Program and will receive a Letter of Commendation in recognition of outstanding academic promise.

The principal, Rev. William J. Harry, O. Carm., announced today that on the basis of performance on the qualifying test for the 32nd annual Merit Program these seniors placed in the top 50,000 of more than one million participants.

Commended area students are: Gerardo Guzman, Wadsworth; Steven Hill, Wauconda, and Peter J. Schommer, Gurnee.

An officer of NMSC, which conducts the program, stated, "The very high test performance of the young men and women who are honored as Commended Students in the Merit

Program is indicative of exceptional scholastic ability. We hope that NMSC's recognition of these high school students will increase their motivation to make the best use of their talents and to develop the skills that will be needed by the future leaders of our nation. Being named a Commended Student in this keen competition is a credit to these young citizens as well as to their schools, which play a key role in their development."

Participants entered the current Merit Program by taking the PSAT/NMSQT in October, 1985, when most of them were juniors.

Develop Ad Openings In Lakelog TV Section

A campaign is being instituted to offer new advertising opportunities to local merchants in Lakelog, the popular television pull-out appearing regularly in Lakeland Newspapers.

The campaign will be directed by John Levite, television publications consultant with Dickinson Multi-Media Inc., New York City, producer of Lakeland's tv listings and television features.

Levite will be contacting merchants about advertising in Lakelog and will be available for personal consultations.

He can be contacted at the Lakeland Newspaper office by calling (312) 223-8161.

Lakelog is the only tv product especially designed for Lakeland viewers. It lists all movies and sports as well as prime-time and daily programs.

Lakelog is a seven-day listing that is available at no extra charge. It is printed on distinctive canary stock in a convenient pull-out format.

Levite, with 30 years in advertising, will be calling on area merchants, offering an opportunity to advertise in Lakelog. The only ads to be included in Lakelog will be those sold by Levite in the next few days.

Contracts will be sold on a no-money-down basis for a year with monthly billing.

Levite says reaching families with advertising in the tv section has proven to be the most effective use of the ad dollar for local advertisers. A survey for Ad-Age by two leading pollsters found 85 percent of those questioned watch tv four hours a day and 98 percent of those viewers used the tv listing of their local newspaper.

Advertisers claim they get the most out of their advertising dollar by reaching the most viewing families. "Exposure factors" finding where the people are—are higher in weekly tv pages than in the popular tv book, and the advertisers find the advertising prices more reasonable in the daily newspaper tv section.

Social Flyers

The old adage "Clothes make the man" apparently applies to birds' plumage as well. Research on chickadees and several species of sparrows has shown that the width of colored bands on the birds' heads and chests determine their social rank within the flock.

HEALTH & FITNESS

Millions of Americans enjoy benefits of healthwalking and racewalking

Walking is fast becoming a national pastime. More than 50 million people are doing it, not just for the pleasure of walking but for the health benefits.

Shoes, similar to those for runners, are being produced especially for walkers, and there is at least one new magazine for walkers.

To walk for fitness, the trick is to move fast enough to accelerate the heart for a sustained period of time, causing a need for more oxygen.

"Any rhythmic, repetitive activity which can be continued for two or more minutes without huffing and puffing afterwards is probably aerobic," says Dr. Lenore Zohman, author of Beyond Diet, Exercise Your Way to Fitness and Heart Health.

Walking five miles in an hour, says Dr. Zohman, is an excellent example of a dynamic aerobic exercise. To benefit from walking or any aerobic exercise, it must be done three times weekly without missing more than two days in succession, emphasizes Dr. Zohman.

Another form of healthwalking that is gaining interest in America is racewalking, often referred to as the fitness sport of the '80s. Racewalking means keeping one foot on the ground at all times.

The International Amateur Athletic Federation defines racewalking as "a progression by steps so taken that unbroken contact with the ground is maintained at each step. The advancing foot of the walker must make contact with the ground before the rear foot leaves the ground."

It may sound complicated, but like many things, it becomes automatic with practice. Synchronized with the foot-steps, the arms pump up and down in a piston motion. The gait is steady and even paced and, once mastered, easy to sustain over long distances.

When racewalkers participate with runners, they often outwalk them, with the last racewalkers finishing before the last runners.

This is what happens in the Mazola Corn Oil-YMCA Shape-Up Run held annually in New York City's Central Park, where as many as 65 racewalkers join 3,000 runners.

Racewalkers entered the Olympics in 1908 in London. The United States, however, didn't have racewalkers of international caliber until the late 1960s. Before then, the sport was dominated by Swedish, British, Italian and Russian walkers.

Mazola corn oil, an official sponsor of the 1988 Olympics, this year begins sponsorship of several U.S. racewalking events including the U.S. National Racewalking Championships for the 50K in Seattle, Washington, and the 20K in Eugene, Oregon.

Their schedule also includes sponsorship of the 20K and 50K U.S. Olympic trials held in 1988.

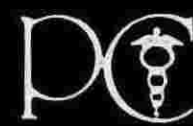

Some of the U.S. team members will be racewalking in the 1987 Lugano Cup, the World Racewalking Championships being held for the first time in the United States in New York City's Central Park.

Howard Jacobson, executive director of the Walkers Club of America and author of Racewalk to Fitness (New York: Walkers Club of America Press), says that it is easy to recognize racewalkers by their unique gait and the pumping action of the arms. It's this piston motion, borrowed from racewalkers, that turns fast walkers into healthwalkers, says Jacobson.

Healthwalking is not only the best way to shape up but is also, when coupled with a sensible diet, the best way to trim down, Jacobson believes.

WISHING YOU A HEALTHY LIFE!!

Pursuit of fitness a way of life

The health and fitness craze that began in the sixties and came to fruition in the seventies is no longer a craze or novelty, but a way of life for most people. Even those of us who have an unyielding aversion to sweat socks and medicine balls have come to realize the joys (yes joys!) of exercise.

As difficult as it may be to get oneself into an exercise program, the rewards are great. Feeling less tense, happier about one's body, and more energetic are the experiences that fitness fanatics describe.

But, perhaps that best thing about being healthy and fit is that you can do it at your own pace. Trying to run five miles your first day out will get you nowhere (except maybe to a hospital).

Moderation is the key when starting your fitness program; physically it is a must, and psychologically you are more inclined to stick to a program in which you start off slowly and build up to a more rapid pace.

Another way to ensure that you stick to an exercise program is finding a sport or exercise that you truly enjoy and feel comfortable with.

If you are a person who enjoys group activities, an aerobics or dance class might be the activity for you.

Then again if you are more of an individualist, running, swimming or golf — all activities you can do on your own — are probably more suited to your personality. The possibilities are endless when it comes to choosing a program suited to your needs.

Even the traditional exercise class offers many different degrees of aerobics and calisthenics.

In one given aerobic program you may find four or five types of classes — from stretch and tone, which concentrates mostly on toning the muscles and does not include an aerobic workout; to low weights, which entails the use of free weights such as dumbbells and ankle weights; to classes that concentrate specifically on reducing hips and thighs; to jazz aerobics for the dance lover in all of us; to your basic aerobic or advanced aerobic class.

So, there truly is no excuse for not taking part in an exercise program, because generally speaking there is a class for everyone.

Then again, if aerobics are just not your thing, don't rule out competitive sports such as tennis, softball or basketball.

Water sports also have their appeal, and with the warm weather as an incentive you can mix such sports as swimming and water skiing with social activities.

The appeal of health and fitness knows no age limit and young and old alike can be found stretching and bending to the sound of a disco beat.

Senior citizen organizations as well as pre-school programs have made exercise a priority, while special exercise classes for moms-to-be can be found everywhere.

People's awareness of their bodies have inspired a recognition of healthy foods, while reports of the benefits of cutting down on fats, sugars and salts have strengthened the argument for more "natural" foods.

Steak and potatoes are being replaced with broiled chicken, fish and salads.

Whole-grain breads and rice have replaced starchy white bread, and the word "fiber" has become permanently etched in our vocabularies.

A few years ago, it was safe to call the fitness craze a fad, but given the amount of consciousness raising the health and fitness movement has effected, it is now safe to say that it is here to stay.

New drugs that can be taken as tablets rather than by injection

Some of the most effective medicinal compounds known are destroyed by enzymes in the stomach and small intestine. This means that insulin, many vaccines, the anticoagulant heparin, and effective new pain killers and contraceptives must be given by injection rather than orally, greatly reducing their usefulness.

Scientists at Bowling Green University and the Medical College of Ohio think they have overcome that problem now, with a new plastic coating for tablets that will allow these and many other drugs to be made in tablet form. They described their work at a national meeting of the American Chemical Society.

The plastic coating on the outside of the tablet can only be opened by bacteria found in the large intestine, according to Dr. Murray Saffran, a biochemist at the Medical College of Ohio in Toledo.

"This means the tablets are protected as they pass through most of the digestive system," he said. "But when they reach the large intestine, the plastic barrier, which is similar to styrofoam or lucite, has holes torn in it by bacterial enzymes. The drugs leak out and, in theory, are absorbed through the intestinal wall into the bloodstream where they need to be. There's no destruction of the drugs since the large intestine doesn't contain the drug-digesting enzymes that the stomach and small intestine do."

In studies with rats, Dr. Saffran has already demonstrated that his packaging works for the delivery of vasopressin, a hormone that controls the output of urine. Preliminary tests with insulin have also been successful.

Because the drug must travel through so much of the digestive system, Dr. Saff-fran expects coated drugs will take four to six hours to begin action in humans. "Not good if you have a headache," he said, "but for chronic pain and most other medical applications, the time lag shouldn't be a problem."

He adds that 10 to 100 times the injected dosage would be necessary but, without the plastic, it would take 1,000 times the injected dosage for most vulnerable drugs to be effective.

If all goes well, Dr. Saffran expects clinical testing to begin within a year. He sees a number of other potential applications of the plastic-coated tablets that would make drug delivery easier and more efficient:

- Diabetes — Many diabetics could replace insulin injections with insulin tablets.

- Heart and blood vessel diseases — The drug heparin, used extensively in hospitals to prevent premature blood clotting, is digested in the small intestine and cannot be given by mouth. An oral form would extend its use from hospital to out-patient and home situations.

- Pain — Newer, more effective pain killers have been developed, but are of limited value because they must be injected. Orally active forms would provide incentive to the drug industry to develop them further.

- Vaccines — The Sabin polio vaccine and other oral vaccines might be more efficient by mouth if they were delivered to the large intestine, where they would not be destroyed.

- Colon cancer — Anticancer drugs, wrapped in the new plastic coating, could be delivered directly to the colon, for greater efficiency and fewer side effects.

Combining fashion and function, footwear must be appropriate

This is the age of specialization and nowhere is this more evident than in the athletic footwear industry. A visit to your local sporting goods store will verify this, and if you go in asking for a pair of "sneakers," then you have not done your homework.

According to a spokesperson for adidas, most consumers are interested in one of two basic types of athletic shoes — running or court.

Court shoes include basketball and tennis shoes plus footwear for volleyball, racquetball, etc. An offshoot of the court shoe category includes aerobic shoes for women and workout shoes for men.

Different sports require different kinds of footwear. If the shoes you select do not match the sport you play, you increase the risk of injury.

Running shoes are designed for forward motion only and should not be worn for court sports which require lateral, stop-and-go and jumping movements.

Most runners have a biomechanical defect in their running gait which requires a motion control shoe such as the adidas ZX 600. The ZX 600 offers runners the ideal combination of stability, flexibility and cushioning.

According to the adidas spokesperson, it is advisable to buy tennis shoes a half-size larger than your street shoes. This is because the foot needs room to slide when playing tennis.

The Court Order from adidas is a moderately priced tennis shoe featuring a dual density polyurethane midsole/outsole. Polyurethane is being used more and more in athletic footwear because of its ability to absorb shock and provide support over a longer period of time.

Consumers are looking for fashion in aerobic and workout shoes but should not forget about function. The Workout II from adidas offers both fashion and an EVA midsole with rubber shell sole for cushioning, stability and excellent traction on a variety of surfaces.

Athletic fashions, footwear: Favorites of active women

American women have shown that physical fitness is not a fad, but rather a way of life.

Women have incorporated exercise into their daily lifestyles, so it's not surprising that athletic wear has become so popular in women's fashions. Warm-ups, unitards and sweat pants are not only worn in gyms and dance classes, but at shopping malls, restaurants and grocery markets.

Athletic footwear has made an equal if not greater impact on the fashion scene.

First joggers were a staple in every woman's wardrobe; now aerobic shoes are the hot selling items.

According to buyer Jack Bellini of Lady Foot Locker, a national chain of stores that specialize in athletic footwear and apparel, aerobic shoes are here to stay. "They're the number one sellers by far, and they will be for a long time," he tells.

With the surging popularity of athletic fashions, today's active women can keep comfortable while looking great.

Nutrition knowledge on wheels

Universities are joining the fight to educate the public on good eating habits. Nutritionists in Penn State's College of Human Development are taking their expertise on the road with the help of a 25-foot customized van called "Nutrition Van Go."

Staff members at the Nutrition Information and Resource Center (NIRC) are taking the van around Pennsylvania to share information about weight control, nutrition for sports, healthful snacking and other topics with educators.

Penn State's nutrition department already has one of the best-known nutrition education programs in the country. With the van, staff members hope to reach even more people.

"About 30 educators visited the van in our first two trips," says Suzanne Pelican, outreach coordinator at NIRC. "That's comparable to the number of people who could travel to our center at University Park in several months."

The van is equipped with an Apple II microcomputer and many educational software programs dealing with nutrition. It also carries videocassettes, slide shows, films and filmstrips, as well as equipment for viewing them.

Also on board are books, learning packets, journal and magazine articles, posters and public display kits.

The van is designed for educators, including teachers, community nutritionists, home economists, dietitians, physicians, nurses and coaches. "We ultimately reach more people if we teach the educators and they in turn pass the information on to their audiences," Ms. Pelican says.

Nutrition educators who are interested in scheduling a van visit should contact the Nutrition Information and Resource Center, Benedict House, University Park, PA 16802 or call (814) 865-6323.

Drink to win: Proper hydration is an aid to athletic performance

When the temperature is rising, and you plan to work out, the most important thing you can exercise is caution about proper hydration.

In fact, fluids are just about the best aid you have to athletic performance. Heat and humidity can present real dangers to summer sports enthusiasts.

The choice of what to drink is pure and simple. Pure water clears the stomach faster than any other fluid and is quickly absorbed to hydrate the body.

Chemical-free refreshment

Sparkling mineral waters, like Perrier, offer pure, chemical-free refreshment — and may also help replace calcium, magnesium and other vital minerals. Perrier's light carbonation quenches the thirst without the bloating effect one can get from soft drinks.

Perrier is also salt-free. Salt in high concentrations should be especially avoided, and can be safely replenished at a normal post-exercise meal.

The choice of what to drink includes the popular sports drinks. These drinks empty from the stomach at least 35 percent more slowly than plain water because they have high sugar and high salt concentrations.

A good rule for water consumption during vigorous exercise is: Drink as much as you can as often as you can without making yourself uncomfortable. Don't wait until thirst beckons, because thirst is not a reliable gauge of fluid needs.

Keep it coming!

A plentiful supply of water plays a life-saving role, so remember to pour it on for summer sports safety.

Library Resources Teach Latch-Key Youths To Cope

Many children take care of themselves after school or during school vacations when their parents are at work. They are finding that they are not helpless; they can make their own beds, breakfasts, and even decisions, and that results in a growing list of achievements and feelings of independence and pride.

The Round Lake Area Library, 422 Cedar Lake Rd., has a variety of resources to help children cope with being alone at home and adjust to having new responsibilities. The booklist "Books for Latchkey Children" is available free at the library for children who want to learn new skills from first aid practices to "taste testing" a new recipe.

Included in the list are: "The Official Kids' Survival Kit: How To Do Things On Your Own," by Elaine Chaback and "Latchkey Kid" by Irene C. Kleeberg, which discusses such subjects as responsibility, safety, and the organization of time. Children will enjoy Lynette Long's "On My Own," a self-care workbook for children, containing more than 125 activities to help prepare children to take care of themselves. A good book for families is Long's "The Handbook for Latchkey Children and Their Parents."

For more information on these and other books on the list, call children's librarian Ann Brennan at (312) 546-7060.

WHS Alum Receives $10,000 Scholarship

Benjamin Andrew of Wauconda and Jessica Novoa of San Jose, California have been awarded $10,000 college scholarships under the 1986 Edward L. Ginzton Scholars Program sponsored by Varian Associates, Inc. The scholarships are awarded annually in a competition open to the children of Varian's 12,000 employees worldwide, and are distributed in $2,500 increments over a four-year period.

The 1986 winners were selected from a field of 41 applicants reviewed by an independent foundation which administers the program. Novoa, a graduate of Independence High School in San Jose, will study genetic engineering at the University of California, Davis, and hopes to become a veterinarian. Andrew graduated from Wauconda High School in Wauconda, and will attend the University of Illinois where he will study engineering and physics.

The Edward L. Ginzton Scholars Program was created in 1984 to honor Dr. Ginzton on his retirement as Varian's chairman. Students are selected on the basis of past academic performance, participation in school and community activities, demonstrated leadership, work experience, educational and career commitment and goals, and individual recommendations.

Water Group Gives Communities Time To Join

Communities wishing to join the Central Lake County Water Committee have an opportunity to do so.

The Central Lake County Water Committee (CLCWC), the group from which the agency will be formed, voted to extend a deadline for new areas to join.

At a September committee meeting, board members voted to extend a grace period until Jan. 1, 1987. Libertyville Mayor Paul Neal said, though, that those communities interested in joining the group should send representatives to the committee's October meeting.

"It would be beneficial to have more members," Neal said.

Gurnee Mayor Richard Welton, a board member, gave the board a copy of the resolution which the Gurnee Village Board passed stating Gurnee will support the agency. Other communities represented on the committee are: Lake Bluff, Knollwood, Roundout, Vernon Hills, Grayslake and Wildwood. Those unincorporated areas are represented by Lake County.

Waukegan to get water, but long-term this is the solution," Welton said of the proposed agency.

In his estimation, Welton said the soonest the water works plant operated by the agency could go on line would be from three to five years.

Board members at the meeting approved a report from the methodology subcommittee on how the agency will be funded.

According to the committee's report, 50 percent of the capital cost should be funded by agency revenue bonds.

"A uniform charge shall be made to all participants based on volume of water consumed to recover cost of debt," the report said.

Also, the remaining 50 percent of the costs will be apportioned among participants on the basis of each member's the year 2020 water use projection.

Using millions-a-gallons per day as a guide, Gurnee totals 5.25 million a day. That translates into 25.55 percent of the agency's cost allocation. Libertyville is highest at 26.1 percent while the Knollwood-Roundout area is lowest at 4.02 percent.

Michigan Has Variety Of Autumn Day Trips

It's fall color tour time again in Michigan—the time when people can follow the vibrant reds, golds, browns and yellows as they blaze their way slowly down the state. These tours come in all lengths, shapes and sizes to fill up a day or a couple of weeks.

For visitors looking for places where the natives go to see the colors, Michigan Travel Bureau employees suggested some of their favorite "secret" tours—the ones that don't always make the guidebooks. They also developed a list of just a few of the local events going on this fall. They encourage travellers to take side trips on the smaller back roads and to explore the less populated towns and areas. Some of the most brilliant colors and sights are found along the hidden country lanes.

Following are some of their favorites:

Southwest Michigan-Tour

Starting in Michigan's Southwest corner drive through Niles and follow Michigan's Rte. 140 all the way north to South Haven. This trip is approximately two hours long and takes visitors through the heart of farm country from the Indiana Border to the coast of Lake Michigan. Events throughout Michigan:

Sept. 19-21: Apple Festival, Niles. The festival highlights the best of the Berrien County harvest. It's less than a two hour drive from the area and features a beard contest, apple seed popping contest and a log sawing contest.

Sept. 26-27: Christmas in the Country Folk Art Show and Sale, Flint. Consists of more than 100 country folk art exhibitors. Located at the IMA Sports Arena.

Oct. 3-12: Viking Color Festival, Cadillac. See the brilliant colors of Michigan amidst the festivities.

Oct. 18-19: "Get Your Goose" Festival, Fennville. It's the second annual festival and includes a wild goose chase, a goose calling contest, Wild Life Art Show, a photography contest, and a parade.

More information on these tours and events is available through the Michigan Travel Bureau by calling tollfree (800)543-2937.

Picnickers May Obtain Permits

The Lake County Forest Preserve Dist. has designated Saturday, Oct. 18 as the first day to apply for 1987 calendar year picnic permits in the forest preserves.

"The change from the customary Jan. 2 date was made due to the better weather conditions and fall colors occurring during October," said Dist. president Donald Strenger in making the announcement.

A SHORT HISTORY OF WANT ADS

by Professor VonTad

It was about 1830 that the New York Sun became the first newspaper to group all the little ads together. The page proved very popular with both advertisers and readers. By about the turn of the century, the volume of ads had grown to the point where it became expedient to group them under classification headings. Thus the modern classified section as we know it was born!

Form Republicans For Linda Hess

Virginia Harrington, Avon Twp. Clerk and a prominent member of the Lake County Republican Party, announced plans to chair a county-wide committee in support of Democrat Linda Hess' bid for re-election to the office of county clerk.

"I have traveled all over Lake County, and have seen unprecedented Republican support to keep Linda Hess in office," Harrington said. "This county needs to retain the candidate who will best serve the taxpayers, and in the case of the county clerk's race, Hess far overpowers the Republican candidate in qualifications and experience. Her record during the past three years has documented unbiased and progressive changes which have kept the clerk's office up-to-date and under budget.

"But even more important, is the need for two-party government in the Lake County Courthouse. Without a check and balance system, the majority party, in this case the Republican Party, can use this vital office to further its own gain. There already have been cases where GOP political bosses have tried to change precinct boundaries and vote tabulation. This does not benefit voters, and it does not benefit Lake County. Republicans are fully aware of the importance of good government, and Linda Hess stands for good government. I urge all independent-thinking Republicans to carefully compare both candidates records, and cast your vote for Linda Hess on Nov. 4."

Anyone who would like to help the Republicans for Hess Committee may contact Kris Volodka, Campaign Coordinator, at (312)949-1350, (312)680-8019, or (312)356-5569.

Whether a woman has experienced childbirth or is due to be a first-time mother, Rock-A-Bye Club offers many exciting opportunities to prepare for the new baby. Northern Illinois Medical Center's year-round, free prenatal series covering all three trimesters of pregnancy is designed for mothers and fathers, includes a special night for grandparents, and features a Sunday afternoon session for the newcomer's siblings. The Early Bird Classes for the first three months are especially important to first time mothers. The second trimester is covered by the Round Two Classes, and the third trimester is called the Home Stretch. For those women anticipating a cesarean delivery, there is a special class offered for both parents.

NIMC offers the on-going prenatal series so that an expectant mother may enter the classes at the time she feels is right for her. It is suggested that the parents-to-be attend the full series for complete prenatal instruction.

The classes offer ample opportunity for parents to ask questions about the physical and emotional changes that occur during pregnancy, as well as the adjustments that must be made as a couple and with other children. Truly family-centered, the education series is an excellent resource for parents. What Is An Emergency?

What is a medical emergency? According to John P. Freeland, M.D., project medical director of Victory Memorial Hospital's Emergency Medical Services, a medical emergency is defined by the citizen.

Too often, people are concerned about "bothering doctors and nurses in the emergency department with minor complaints. However, according to a study published by the American College of Emergency Physicians in 1980, 25 percent of the public underestimates the severity of a medical problem.

Dr. Freeland points out that anyone who thinks he or she might have a medical emergency should see a physician as soon as possible. He offers the following seven warning signs of a medical emergency:

Chest pain or upper abdominal pain or pressure (a heart attack is frequently mistaken for indigestion); difficulty in breathing or shortness of breath; fainting or feeling faint; dizziness, sudden weakness, or a sudden change in vision; sudden severe pain anywhere in the body;

severe or persistent vomiting; suicidal or homicidal feelings.

While not all these warning signs may ultimately be an emergency, you should not try to diagnose yourself. Only a physician can evaluate your problem.

The doctors and nurses of the Victory Emergency Dept. do not want you to waste time trying to decide whether you have a medical emergency. They want to see you as soon as possible in a situation where every moment may count.

Victory Memorial Hospital believes that each patient determines whether he or she has a medical emergency. Prompt action in treating a medical problem as an emergency often means the difference between life and death.

Among the medical problems considered an emergency by the American College of Emergency Physicians are:

Heart attack symptoms, such as chest pains, upper abdominal pain or a feeling of tightness in the chest area; breathing difficulties or shortness of breath; dizziness; fainting or sudden weakness; unconsciousness;

severe or continuous bleeding; seizure; major burns; high fever; head injuries; spinal injuries; suicidal or homicidal feelings; shock; broken bones; possible poisoning or overdoses; severe or persistent vomiting; allergic reactions or a sudden rash; sudden change in vision.

Less severe problems needing medical attention are: minor fractures; heat exhaustion; and objects in the eye, ear or nose.

The emergency staff at Victory Memorial Hospital is also trained to work with victims of rape and abuse.

It is too late to take certain types of action after an emergency occurs. Therefore, Victory Hospital advises you to learn how to handle a medical emergency and direction to the emergency department long before a problem occurs.

The public is invited to come to Victory Hospital's Reception Desk in the Main Lobby during Emergency Medical Services Week and ask for an Emergency Information Kit. Kits are available between the hours of 9 a.m. and 8 p.m. every day during EMS Week.

The Emergency Information Kit will contain step by step information to help prepare families for medical emergencies. More than 78 million Americans turn to local emergency departments for help each year. Frequently, these people had never needed emergency care before and did not know what to expect.

Persons who are interested in Emergency Medical Services/Mobil Intensive Care training or who have questions regarding their ambulance service may call or write to EMS/MIC, Victory Memorial Hospital, 1324 N. Sheridan Rd., Waukegan, IL 60085, (312)360-4179.

Chamber Boasts Success

The first business-after-hours mixer, "Meet & Mix," sponsored by the Round Lake Area Chamber of Commerce and Industry was a success, with about 40 members and guests in attendance.

The gathering provided an opportunity for members and guests to become acquainted. Another mixer is expected in the near future.

Meteorites

A meteorite explosion large enough to affect the global climate occurs in the earth's atmosphere about once every 100,000 years. Should a meteorite larger than 1/2 of a mile in diameter hit the earth, it would send up a great cloud of debris that would alter the climate, possibly producing effects similar to those of a nuclear winter.

CLC Board Reviews Its Admission Strategies

The College of Lake County Board of Trustees received an overview of recruitment strategies and procedures at its Sept. 23 board meeting at CLC's Southlake Educational Center in Highland Park.

Terry Spets, director of student recruitment, reported on the college's computer supported inquiry response system, program-based marketing plans and a new target market approach to student recruitment. Fall enrollment was up 5.3 percent and included significant increases in full-time and evening class enrollment.

Spets also showed the new recruitment video designed for high school students. Upbeat music, exciting visuals and testimonials from students and faculty allow high school students to get a close-up view of what CLC has to offer. The video will be used in addition to printed recruitment material and personal contact.

The board also adopted a tax levy increase of 9.71 percent for 1986. A public hearing on the levy is scheduled for 6:45 p.m., Oct. 28, before the board's October meeting.

In other action, the board: --approved $80,635 in training contracts generated by CLC's Center for Economic Development to train employees in several area businesses and corporations; --approved submission of a formal grant proposal by the Engineering, Math and Physical Sciences Dept. to support activities and seminars designed to educate Lake County women about non-traditional roles for women. The grant will total $14,750 and will be funded on Oct. 1.

--approved the retirement of Jerome Lenzen, a maintenance mechanic who has been with CLC since its founding in 1969, and approved the appointment of Gene Hanson, physical education instructor, as the new baseball coach at CLC.

Shriners Hold Clinic

A free diagnostic clinic for children with orthopedic problems will be sponsored by the Lake County Shrine Club at the Family Health Center, Six Phillip Rd., Vernon Hills, on Oct. 10, between the hours of 1 and 5 p.m.

The clinic will be open to any child between one month and 21 years of age who needs help with burn, bone or muscular problems. Children will be screened by an orthopedic physician and if treatment is needed they will be referred to the Shriner's Crippled Children's Hospital, at 2211 North Oak Park Ave., Chicago, at no charge to the parents.

Any race, creed or color is welcome to the clinic. No appointments are necessary and the parents should bring a copy of the birth certificate, and when necessary, papers to prove guardianship of the child.

If you have any questions regarding the clinic please call David Chapman, chairman, at (312) 634-6333 or Josh Levine, president, at (312) 872-8231 days or (312) 249-5353 evenings.

Registrars Taking Voting Sign-Up

The Wauconda Twp. Republican Club's fall fund-raising dinner drew an attendance of about 160 persons, according to Club President Candice Gotschalk.

A special last minute voter registration will be held from 7 to 9 p.m. Monday, Oct. 6 to accommodate Wauconda and Island Lake area residents who work. A Lake County registrar will be present to register voters at the Wauconda Village Hall, Main St., Wauconda. A McHenry County registrar will also be available to sign-up Island Lake residents at the Island Lake Village Hall, Greenleaf St., Island Lake.

Hours will be the same at both locations.

Propose Changes In Law

Two proposed amendments to the Illinois Constitution will be submitted to voters on Nov. 4, according to Secretary of State Jim Edgar. Edgar said one of the amendments concerns the category of persons who may be denied bail by the courts, while the other would authorize the General Assembly to pass legislation exempting from taxation property used exclusively for veterans' organizations.

In accordance with Statute, the Secretary of State's office has distributed to local election authorities pamphlets explaining both amendments, including arguments in favor of and against each one. The pamphlets are being mailed to Illinois' approximately 6.1 million registered voters.

"These two proposed amendments to the Illinois Constitution affect every citizen in our state," Edgar said. "I urge voters to carefully examine the pamphlet so they can make informed decisions on these issues."

State law requires that a copy be mailed to each registered voter.

For passage, each amendment must receive either 3/5 of the votes cast on the issue or 50 percent of all ballots cast.

Beach School VIPs

Seek Volunteers To Assist On Form

Educational organizations are needed to participate in VITA, the Volunteer Income Tax Assistance program sponsored by the Internal Revenue Service.

Special emphasis is currently being placed on recruiting new organizations to offer assistance during the coming filing season. Free income tax assistance is frequently provided by accounting and business department clubs at local colleges and universities. During the previous filing season IRS trained over 1,500 volunteers who assisted taxpayers at over 250 sites throughout northern Illinois, including six colleges and universities.

VITA volunteers help lower income, handicapped, elderly and non-English speaking individuals who have simple tax returns. Volunteers receive a four-to-five day training course in basic income tax law, taught by specially trained IRS instructors. More complicated issues, such as business income and sale of assets, are beyond the scope of the program and are excluded from VITA.

Training classes will be conducted in January and February. They are held at the sites of the sponsoring organization either during daytime or evening hours. The IRS will schedule classes for groups of 10 or more who wish to participate.

IRS invites interested organizations to contact the VITA Coordinator by calling (312) 886-4609 from Chicago or (800) 424-1040 from elsewhere in northern Illinois. Efforts will be made to place individual volunteers with sponsoring VITA organizations seeking additional assistants.

THIS WEEK'S

HOROSCOPE

BY SALOME

Aries (Mar. 21-Apr. 19) Careful. Someone may be trying to pull the wool over your eyes again. Avoid being caught in a tangled scheme by insisting on explanations.

Taurus (Apr. 20-May 20) Someone may be holding out on all the facts so you'd better hold onto your assets before making any decisions.

Gemini (May 21-June 20) Demand more open discussions before closing any deals. This is not the time to rely solely on the word of someone you know very little about.

Cancer (June 21-Jul 20) Insist on complete answers to your questions. Half-way measures lead to confusion. You need more time to make important decisions.

Leo (Jul 21-Aug. 22) Expect changes in your travel plans. Don't be surprised at suggestions that could take you out of the ordinary and lead you to extraordinary adventures.

Virgo (Aug. 23-Sept. 22) An open mind remains your best method for dealing with several conflicting situations. Don't judge until all the facts are in.

Libra (Sept. 23-Oct. 22) An inflexible attitude turns a supporter into a doubter. Be more open to suggestions. You don't have to accept, but expect to learn something.

Scorpio (Oct. 23-Nov. 21) A reminder from the past threatens to open an old wound. Keeping your emotions in check can prevent another painful confrontation.

Sagittarius (Nov. 22-Dec. 21) A new friend helps you make those long delayed arrangements. Trust continues to build as you each prove your commitment to one another.

Capricorn (Dec. 22-Jan. 19) Continue to plug away at those gaps in your plans. Make sure you take care of even the smallest problem now before it becomes more difficult.

Aquarius (Jan. 20-Feb. 18) Come on, get physical. Athletic influences are strong. Get out and get into more active endeavors. You've been putting exercise off for too long.

Pisces (Feb. 19-Mar. 20) You're going to hear a lot of conflicting stories. Consider the source of each before deciding whether or not to believe what you're told.

String Of Pearls To Be Theme Of NIMC Extravaganza

The Auxiliary to Northern Illinois Medical Center is planning the 1986 Auxiliary Gala as a grande finale to NIMC's 13th Anniversary Celebration.

Rather than emphasize the decade of the 50's, when the hospital was founded, the theme centers on the art deco style of the 1930's era and the Golden Age of the Big Band sound. The glamorous red, white and black color scheme, The Ray Horsley Band, the opportunity to dress to the nines for this "black tie optional" event, promise to make Oct. 11 a memorable evening for those who attend the big night.

Turnberry Country Club, Crystal Lake, provides the elegant backdrop for cocktails, dinner and dancing. The gala begins with dancing at 6:30 p.m., and dinner followed by more dancing at 7:30.

Acting as honorary co-chairmen of the gala are James Althoff, community leader and businessman, and James Mowery, MD, president of the Medical/Dental Staff at NIMC. Althoff is president of Althoff Industries, and has been involved in the community with his commitment to the fire protection district, his work with the board of education, and as trustee on the Board of Governors of State Colleges and Universities. Dr. Mowery specializes in internal medicine and has offices in two McHenry locations.

Auxiliary president, Christine Udstuen and auxiliary board member, Jane Althoff are co-chairing the event. Funds raised from the "String of Pearls" will go to the development of an osteoporosis screening center.

"We are pleased and proud to offer the public an opportunity to help a very special cause and to have a great time, too," says Udstuen. "It has been a tradition of the auxiliary from its beginning in 1956 (the year the hospital was founded), to develop innovative and enjoyable fundraising events. The gala is now in its third year, and each time we have tried to add new elements to make it more exciting than the previous one."

"The committee has done an outstanding job in Thomas R. Eiden, director and former executive vice president of The First National Bank of Waukegan, will become president of First Trust and Savings Bank of Glenview.
